PREFACE.

THE Year-Book of 1890 comes with a lengthened list of churches and ministers, and of religious and charitable organizations. In every branch of our work, in every part of our country, interest increases and enterprises multiply. This very zeal and activity make it difficult to keep the Year-Book free from errors and omissions. But neither time nor care have been spared that it may be both full and accurate.

The organized growth of our body has been limited only by the means and men at command. In the future, should our parishes and people awake to a sense of their opportunity and responsibility, that growth would be many times greater than in the past. The Church Building Loan Fund is now all in use; while seven or eight churches are asking for aid which the Trustees cannot give. Mr. Knapp has returned to Japan, taking with him a colleague and four other well-trained men to teach in one of the universities of the realm. In the spring one of our strongest and most devoted ministers will join Mr. Knapp and give his aid in this wonderful work. The Montana School has gathered nearly if not quite all of the fifty Indian children for whom it has accommodations; and is slowly getting together the means needful for a good mental and industrial training. Thus in every department of our work life and activity are rightly appealing to the sympathy and practical support of our people. The National Conference recently held at Philadelphia presented every department of our work in a series of clear and forcible reports and papers, which must deepen the interest of our people and make them glad to render efficient aid.

Since the Year-Book of 1889 was issued, seven of our ministers, after a life-time of wise and faithful labor, "have fallen asleep": James S. Bush, Jacob Caldwell, Seth Chandler, Henry Wilder Foote, Fielder Israel, Frederic Newman Knapp, David Newton Sheldon. Who will rise up to fill their places?

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

THE times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{2}{3}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about 10½ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about 9½ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within 7½° of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within 7½° of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

ECLIPSES.

There will be three eclipses this year, two of the Sun and one of the Moon, neither of them visible in the United States, and a lunar appulse.

I. A Lunar Appulse, June 3. The nearest approach of the Moon to the Earth's shadow occurs at 1h. 37m. morn., Washington time. Whether a contact of the Moon and the Earth's shadow (Umbra) will occur is uncertain, owing to the uncertainty of atmospheric conditions. If a contact occurs, it will be visible throughout the United States.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, June 17, visible generally through the eastern continent.

III. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, November 26, invisible in the United States.

IV. A Central Eclipse of the Sun, December 11, visible in the Indian and Southern Oceans.

LIST OF MINISTERS,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES

This list is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, who have been approved by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of a society, either as pastor or stated supply, have their names preceded by a †. A large proportion of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement; so that, of the whole number, not more than one eighth are in any sense candidates.

The Assistant Secretary will be there every day from 9 A.M. till 5 P.M.

The office of the Treasurer is also in this Building; and all letters for him, on business connected with the Association, should be addressed to him as "Treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, Boston."

Rev. Francis Tiffany, in charge of the Association's Indian work, will be found here from 10 A. M. till 2 P. M., on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. This department, as well as that of Southern work, is under the direction of a Special Committee, consisting, on the part of the Board of Directors, of Mrs. Wells, Miss Bailey, Mr. Calder, Mr. Garfield, and the Secretary; and of Mrs. Mary Hemenway, Mrs. Stephen H. Bullard, and Mrs. George F. Richardson, serving by invitation of the Board.

The Building contains, besides the Book Rooms of the Association and the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, the Reading Room, and Rooms occupied by the Secretaries of the Association and other officials, Channing Hall, with seats for three hundred, and Committee Rooms of various sizes. The Hall and Committee Rooms are at the service of Unitarians for denominational meetings of all kinds, arrangements for such use to be made with the Assistant Secretary.

By-Laws of the Association.

Article I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

Art. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

Art. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

Art. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

Art. V. — The officers shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, fourteen of whom, at least, shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year each, or until their successors are chosen. The other Directors shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors are chosen; and one third shall be chosen annually.

Art. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

Art. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

Art. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

Art. IX. — Any amendment of these articles, proposed at one annual meeting, may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

Constitution.

Preamble. — Whereas the great opportunities and demands for Christian labor and consecration, at this time, increase our sense of the obligations of all disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ to prove their faith by self-denial, and by the devotion of their lives and possessions to the service of God, and the building up of the kingdom of his Son, —

Article I. — Therefore the Christian churches of the Unitarian faith, here assembled, unite themselves in a common body, to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to the end of energizing and stimulating the denomination with which they are connected to the largest exertions in the cause of Christian faith and work.

Art. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not to exceed three from any church, including its minister, who shall officially be one, as any of our churches may accredit to it by a certificate of their appointment.

Art. III. — The American Unitarian Association, the Western Conference, and such other theological, academic, or humane organizations in our body as the Conference may see fit to invite, shall be entitled to representation by not more than three delegates each.

Art. IV. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions.

Art. V. — Its officers shall consist of a President, six Vice-Presidents, a General Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Council of ten, — half ministers and half laymen, — who shall be elected at each meeting, to hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are appointed. And half the number of the Council shall consist of new members, the oldest members being retired at each election, and giving place to the new members.

Art. VI. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

Art. VII. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending them to such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of the Unitarian denomination.

Art. VIII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto.

Art. IX. — Reaffirming our allegiance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and desiring to secure the largest unity of the spirit, and the widest practical co-operation, we invite to our fellowship all who wish to be followers of Christ.

Art. X. — While we believe that the Preamble and Articles of our Constitution fairly represent the opinions of the majority of our churches, yet we wish distinctly to put on record our declaration that they are no authoritative test of Unitarianism, and are not intended to exclude from our fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our purposes and practical aims.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. It shall be the duty of the Council to appoint Committees on Fellowship for the term of two years, and to fill vacancies in the same.

REGULATIONS OF COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference, at its meeting in 1878.)

1. Whenever any person, who has not received instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, the Theological School at Meadville, or in any school of theology of the Unitarian faith elsewhere, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowship, or to the Chairman of the sub-committee nearest his residence.

2. Upon making such application, the candidate shall present to the Committee satisfactory testimonials of his fitness for the ministry.

3. If the Committee are assured of the fitness of the candidate, they shall give to him a certificate of their approval, and they shall at once inform the churches of their action in the premises by publishing the same in the "Christian Register," or some other denominational paper.

A preliminary meeting was held at Saratoga, at the time of the meeting of the National Conference in September, 1878, and the organization was completed at the next meeting of that Conference, in September, 1880.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETIES.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is now incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-school Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper has been enlarged to a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, and contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of October next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in October.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 21,500 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 273,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $35.00 to $75.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.50 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

UNITARIANISM ABROAD.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation, and many of the first martyrs, executed under the common term "Anabaptists," were really Unitarians, or Arians. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men. John Milton, John Locke, Sir Isaac Newton, were all Unitarians. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. The churchmen, however, were bound by the creeds and articles, and the only man among them who had any permanent effect upon religious thought was Theophilus Lindsey, who in 1774 gave up his living at Catterick, in Yorkshire, and going to London, opened the first avowedly Unitarian church, — Essex Street Chapel. Among the English Presbyterians, however, there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward under the influence of men like Dr. Priestley, they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." They for the most part accepted the name very reluctantly, fearing lest it might itself become a bondage, and in their denominational institutions have always maintained the same openness of constitution which as Presbyterians enabled them to move onward toward liberal thought. A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which all these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number; namely: Manchester New College, just removed to Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), of which Dr. Martineau had long been the head till his resignation in 1885, the present faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D , Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter and Rev. C. B. Upton; the Unitarian Home Missionary College (formerly "Board"), established in 1855, to afford a theological training to men who have not been able to have an academic course, but who show marked fitness for the ministry; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism before the Unitarian division, which still continues entirely unsectarian, Orthodox and Unitarian tutors and students working together in harmony.

The working centre of all the Unitarian churches is the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, founded in 1825 (the same year as the A. U. A.). There is also a National Conference, established in 1882, and meeting once in three years. Secretary, A. W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. Henry Ierson. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Unitarian Pocket Almanac," published at Essex Hall, supplies full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

The following is a list of the Unitarian Churches (and Ministers), with others, such as Presbyterian, General Baptist (the Old Connection), Free Christian, Universalist, etc., in fellowship and habitual association with them, — furnished by Rev. Henry Ierson of London.

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. Born of humble parents in Klausenburg, in 1510, he completed his academical education at Wittenberg, and thus had the privilege of coming face to face with the great Reformation leaders. From 1540 we find him contributing his full share of energy and thought to the consolidation of the Reformed churches in Transylvania. Up to 1557 he seems to have held the Lutheran tenets. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the Edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary is 110, including that recently formed at Buda-Pesth, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being over 57,000. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of 350 members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. The present Rector of the Klausenburg College is Professor John Kovács. There are also five theological professors, nine ordinary professors, and about an equal number of assistant professors and teachers. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seed-sower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor Kovács and the Rev. Denis Peterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Out of 225 Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union), a Liberal Christian organization, numbers some 40 branches and about 27,000 members; it supports two missionaries in Japan. The Free Congregations, now in a declining condition, are more like Free Religious Associations. The Protestant Union of Holland counts 13,000 members, and is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. Mons. J. Hocart, in Brussels, holds regular religious services of a Unitarian type. In Salem and Madras, in India, there are representatives of this faith. Rev. Arthur M. Knapp, with the assistance of Rev. Clay MacCauley, represents Unitarianism in Japan at Tokio, supported by the American Unitarian Association, with the co-operation of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, under whose auspices the Rev. H. W. Hawkes is now laboring there in conjunction with Mr. Knapp.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages, with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared are replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the last ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,
FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Square 16mo, 220 pp. $6.00 a dozen; single copies, 60 cts.

This work consists of two parts. The first contains thirty-three forms of service, to which is added a collection of prayers and of collects and closing prayers. The second part contains 249 hymns, and 121 tunes, chants, and select pieces.

THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

FORMED in 1825, and in 1847 legally incorporated with power to receive and hold pecuniary trusts, has been for over half a century the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian Churches of America.

It invites to its co-operation all Unitarian Christians, the payment of fifty dollars constituting membership for life; and any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, being entitled to representation at the meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president and two additional lay delegates, provided such contributions are placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Its purpose is to serve the interests of Christianity as Unitarians understand it. To this end it collects and diffuses religious information. It publishes and distributes books and tracts. It supports missionaries, aids clergymen and young men preparing for the ministry, and helps in building churches. It seeks to produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among the Unitarian Churches and people; and for its missionary activities solicits their benefactions, whether by yearly contribution, or by gift of endowment funds to be held in trust.

This Association publishes important theological and religious works by leading Unitarian writers, and offers them for sale at prices much lower than volumes of the current popular literature of similar size. At its Book Room may also be found on sale all other Unitarian works.

It offers, as a gift, a selection from its publications, of about thirty volumes, to colleges or public libraries, upon their application and assurance of welcome.

It also gives, without cost, a selection of volumes illustrating the Unitarian faith, to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, who apply for them with the desire candidly to know what Unitarians believe; and Channing's Works to any minister not owning them settled over a religious society in the United States or Canada, or any student of a Theological School, intending to enter the ministry, who makes application.

PREFACE.

THE Year-Book for 1891 differs from its predecessors only in one particular. It has to report fresh spiritual activity, recording itself in new movements and organizations. The last twenty-five years in the history of our religious body have been years of steady enlargement and of ever-increasing influence. The end of each year finds us with more parishes to enroll on our list. National and Local Conferences, Women's Alliances and Associations, Unity Clubs, Guilds, Lend-a-Hand Circles, Societies of Christian Endeavor, and Unitarian Clubs have multiplied with bewildering rapidity. Most of these efforts for intellectual and Christian culture have their silent witness on the pages of the Year-Book.

All branches of our work have prospered. The call for our literature doubles every three years. We could wisely put a missionary in every State in the union, were it not for the expense. The number of new societies which might profitably be created has at present no limits but the money and the men at command. Mr. Bond has indeed been compelled to relinquish his work at the Montana School, and Mr. Knapp the great undertaking in Japan to which he desired to give his whole life. But neither left till his enterprise was put on a sound basis, and placed in charge of devoted men. That is, in all directions our religious body has been blessed with new life, and with that abundantly.

During the last year Charles Brace Ferry, Judson Fisher, Nathaniel Smith Folsom, Frederic Henry Hedge, Increase Sumner Lincoln, William Silsbee, William Phillips Tilden, and James Johnson Twiss have closed their earthly labors. The very list shows what qualities of personal attractiveness, of learning, of intellectual power and moral and spiritual consecration have entered in the past into our Unitarian work. Who shall rise to do that work with like strength and devotion ?

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

THE times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{2}{3}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N Y

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about $10\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about $9\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within $7\frac{1}{2}$° of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and with $7\frac{1}{2}$° of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

List of Ministers,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, who have been approved by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of a society, either as pastor or stated supply, have their names preceded by a †. A large proportion of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement; so that, of the whole number, not more than one eighth are in any sense candidates

The Assistant Secretary will be there every day from 9 A.M. till 5 P.M.

The office of the Treasurer is also in this Building; and all letters for him, on business connected with the Association, should be addressed to him as "Treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, Boston."

Rev. Francis Tiffany, in charge of the Association's Indian work, will be found here from 10 A. M. till 2 P. M., on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. This department, as well as that of Southern work, is under the direction of a Special Committee, consisting, on the part of the Board of Directors, of Mrs. Wells, Miss Bailey, Mr. Calder, Mr. Gatfield, and the Secretary; and of Mrs. Mary Hemenway, Mrs. Stephen H. The Building contains, besides the Book Rooms of the Association and the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, the Reading Room, and Rooms occupied by the Secretaries of the Association and other officials, Channing Hall, with seats for three hundred, and Committee Rooms of various sizes. The Hall and Committee Rooms are at the service of Unitarians for denominational meetings of all kinds, arrangements for such use to be made with the Assistant Secretary.

By-Laws of the Association.

Article I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

Art. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

Art. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

Art. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

Art. V. — The officers shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, fourteen of whom, at least, shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year each, or until their successors are chosen. The other Directors shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors are chosen; and one third shall be chosen annually.

Art. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

Art. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

Art. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

Art. IX. — Any amendment of these articles, proposed at one annual meeting, may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

Constitution.

Preamble. — Whereas the great opportunities and demands for Christian labor and consecration, at this time, increase our sense of the obligations of all disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ to prove their faith by self-denial, and by the devotion of their lives and possessions to the service of God, and the building up of the kingdom of his Son, —

Article I. — Therefore the Christian churches of the Unitarian faith, here assembled, unite themselves in a common body, to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to the end of energizing and stimulating the denomination with which they are connected to the largest exertions in the cause of Christian faith and work.

Art. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not to exceed three from any church, including its minister, who shall officially be one, as any of our churches may accredit to it by a certificate of their appointment.

Art. III. — The American Unitarian Association, the Western Conference, and such other theological, academic, or humane organizations in our body as the Conference may see fit to invite, shall be entitled to representation by not more than three delegates each.

Art. IV. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions.

Art. V. — Its officers shall consist of a President, six Vice-Presidents, a General Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Council of ten, — half ministers and half laymen, — who shall be elected at each meeting, to hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are appointed. And half the number of the Council shall consist of new members, the oldest members being retired at each election, and giving place to the new members.

Art. VI. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

Art. VII. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending them to such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of the Unitarian denomination.

Art. VIII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto.

Art. IX. — Reaffirming our allegiance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and desiring to secure the largest unity of the spirit, and the widest practical co-operation, we invite to our fellowship all who wish to be followers of Christ.

Art. X. — While we believe that the Preamble and Articles of our Constitution fairly represent the opinions of the majority of our churches, yet we wish distinctly to put on record our declaration that they are no authoritative test of Unitarianism, and are not intended to exclude from our fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our purposes and practical aims.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. It shall be the duty of the Council to appoint Committees on Fellowship for the term of two years, and to fill vacancies in the same.

REGULATIONS OF COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference, at its meeting in 1878.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, the Theological School at Meadville, or in any school of theology of the Unitarian faith elsewhere, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowship, or to the Chairman of the sub-committee nearest his residence.

2. Upon making such application, the candidate shall present to the Committee satisfactory testimonials of his fitness for the ministry.

3. If the Committee are assured of the fitness of the candidate, they shall give to him a certificate of their approval, and they shall at once inform the churches of their action in the premises by publishing the same in the "Christian Register," or some other denominational paper.

National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women.

The Alliance is an outgrowth of the Women's Auxiliary Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches, organized Sept. 23, 1880, to enable the women of the denomination to serve more definitely the great cause of the Liberal Religion.

After ten years of most successful activity, finding the need of new and more enlarged methods, and wishing to be a National body, the Conference took the above name, and adopted a new Constitution, which went into effect Oct. 24, 1890.

From the Constitution.

The objects of the Alliance shall be —

1. Primarily, to quicken the religious life of our Unitarian churches, and to bring the women of the denomination into closer acquaintance, co-operation, and fellowship.

2. To promote local organizations of women for missionary and denominational work, and to bring the same into association.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization formed by Unitarian women for the same purposes, but not connected with any church. An Associate Alliance shall be a union of two or more Branches for more effective work. The payment of $1.00 annually to a Branch shall constitute any woman a member of the National Alliance, entitled to take part in its deliberative meetings, but without vote, except for delegates for its business meetings. One-third of these membership fees shall be sent to the National Treasury unappropriated. The remainder thereof and all other money raised for denominational purposes may be disbursed by the Branches, advising with the Executive Board, if possible, otherwise with the local vice-president, or, if preferred, may be paid into the National Treasury. The fee for life-membership shall be $50, all of which shall be sent to the National Treasury, unappropriated. The National Alliance does not take part in, or supervise, work other than denominational that may be done by its Branches, but will publish in its reports work done and money raised for such purposes. While Branches still retain their independence in local work, all money contributed to the National Treasury shall be expended only for such work as shall be in harmony with existing National Unitarian organizations; namely, the National Conference and the American Unitarian Association.

Women's Western Unitarian Conference. — Organized at St. Louis, Mo., May 4, 1881. Incorporated May 8, 1882. Headquarters, 175 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill., Annual Meeting in May, in connection with the Western Unitarian Conference.

Its object is "the advancement of freedom, fellowship, and character in religion," — at present, by uniting the women of the churches in a central organization, in religious study classes, and in Post-office Mission work.

For its income the Conference depends wholly on the contributions of the women of the Western Unitarian churches. About $800.00 is needed for the year's work, and the work would enlarge with larger resources.

There are life, annual, and delegate members. Life membership, $10.00; annual membership, $1.00. "Delegate membership shall be acquired by certificate of appointment by any religious society or organization that shall have, during the previous year, contributed not less than $5.00 to the Conference; and such society or organization may be represented by two general delegates."

Its officers are a President, two Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer, elected at each Annual Meeting from the Board of Directors. Twenty-one Directors chosen for three years, seven annually. Vacancies in the Board may be filled by the remaining members. Five members a quorum. Directors' regular meetings on the first Thursday of June, September, December, March.

Sunday-School Societies.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is now incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-school Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper has been enlarged to a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, and contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of October next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in October.

Theological Schools.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 21,500 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 273,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $35.00 to $75.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.50 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

It is forty-six years since the founding of this Institution, and forty-three years since its organization under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania. It has a Board of thirty Trustees, a part of them non-resident, and a Board of Instruction, the number of whose members may be increased or diminished according to the needs of the Institution. There are at present two resident and two non-resident members of the latter Board. To it belongs the general direction of the internal affairs of the School. Assistant professors, tutors, and lecturers, not members of the official Board, are appointed from time to time to share in the duties of instruction.

Tuition is altogether free, and no charge is made by the Institution except for heating, lighting, and caring for rooms occupied by students in Divinity Hall. Two hundred dollars a year and sometimes less will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small beneficiary fund from which assistance is rendered to worthy students in straitened circumstances.

The course of study extends over four years, for those who have had only high-school training: college graduates and others having a substantially equivalent education complete the course in three years.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men, but the Institution has as yet no beneficiary funds available for their assistance.

The library contains about 18,000 volumes.

Unitarianism Abroad.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation, and many of the first martyrs, executed under the common term "Anabaptists," were really Unitarians, or Arians. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men. John Milton, John Locke, Sir Isaac Newton, were all non-Trinitarians. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. The churchmen, however, were bound by the creeds and articles, and the only man among them who had any permanent effect upon religious thought was Theophilus Lindsey, who in 1774 gave up his living at Catterick, in Yorkshire, and going to London, opened the first avowedly Unitarian church, — Essex Street Chapel. Among the English Presbyterians, however, there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward under the influence of men like Dr. Priestley, they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." They for the most part accepted the name very reluctantly, fearing lest it might itself become a bondage, and in their denominational institutions have always maintained the same openness of constitution which, as Presbyterians, enabled them to move onward toward liberal thought. A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which all these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number; namely: Manchester New College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), of which Dr. Martineau had long been the head till his resignation in 1885, the present faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D , Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter and Rev. C. B. Upton; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in Manchester, in 1855, to afford a theological training to men who have not been able to have an academic course, but who show marked fitness for the ministry, the Principal of which is Rev. Alexander Gordon; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism before the Unitarian division, which still continues entirely unsectarian, Orthodox and Unitarian tutors and students working together in harmony, the Professors being Walter J. Evans, Principal, Rev. Philemon Moore, and Rev. D. G. Jones.

The working centre of all the Unitarian churches is the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, founded in 1825 (the same year as the A. U. A.). There is also a National Conference, established in 1882, and meeting once in three years. Secretary, A. W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. Henry Ierson. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d* The "Unitarian Year-Book" and the "Pocket Almanac," published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

The following is a list of the Unitarian Churches (and Ministers), with others, such as Presbyterian, General Baptist (the Old Connection), Free Christian, Universalist, etc , in fellowship and habitual association with them, — furnished by Rev Henry Ierson of London.

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. Born of humble parents in Klausenburg, in 1510, he completed his academical education at Wittenberg, and thus had the privilege of coming face to face with the great Reformation leaders. From 1540 we find him contributing his full share of energy and thought to the consolidation of the Reformed churches in Transylvania. Up to 1557 he seems to have held the Lutheran tenets. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the Edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hunagry, including that recently opened at Buda-Pesth, with settled pastors, is 107, besides 58 that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about 60,000. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of 350 members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. The present Rector of the Klausenburg College is Professor John Kovács. There are also five theological professors, nine ordinary professors, and about an equal number of assistant professors and teachers. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor Kovács and the Rev. Denis Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

Rev. Arthur M. Knapp, under whose wise and efficient supervision the Japanese mission was established, having withdrawn, Rev. Clay MacCaulay now represents Unitarianism in Japan at Tokio, supported by the American Unitarian Association, with the co-operation of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, under whose auspices the Rev. H. W. Hawkes is now laboring. Mr Knapp has the satisfaction of leaving the work in a prosperous condition. A Unitarian review is published in the native tongue, with contributors both Japanese and American, and has a circulation of several thousands. A native church under Mr. Kato has been established, and several others are likely to follow, while Mr. Kanda, a late Meadville student, is doing admirable work by speech and writing among his countrymen.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Out of 225 Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union), a Liberal Christian organization, numbers some 40 branches and about 27,000 members; it supports two missionaries in Japan. The Free Congregations, now in a declining condition, are more like Free Religious Associations. The Protestant Union of Holland counts 13,000 members, and is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. Mons. J. Hocart, in Brussels, holds regular religious services of a Unitarian type. In Salem and Madras, in India, there are representatives of this faith.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared are replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the last ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,
FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Square 16mo, 220 pp. $6.00 a dozen; single copies, 60 cts.

This work consists of two parts. The first contains thirty-three forms of service, to which is added a collection of prayers and of collects and closing prayers. The second part contains 249 hymns, and 121 tunes, chants, and select pieces.

UNITARIANISM: Its Origin and History. A Course of Sixteen Lectures delivered in Channing Hall, Boston, 1888-89. 12mo, 400 pp. Price, $1.00.

"The volume covers phases of the development of Unitarianism which are not treated in any other work. Its analytical table of contents and full index furnish ready access to its wealth of matter. The names of its authors are in themselves a guarantee of substantial material and thorough workmanship. The volume will be an excellent one to put in the hands of those who ask, 'What is American Unitarianism?'" — Christian Register, Boston.

"Whoever wishes to know the high literary merit and profound spiritual consciousness of the prominent religious teachers of the Unitarian Church will find this volume a revelation. The fact that we do not coincide with many of the opinions expressed need not hinder our enjoyment of these masterly addresses." — Christian Union (Orthodox), New York, N. Y.

"This volume is interesting, not only because of the names it bears, and the scholarly treatment of its topics, and the purpose of its production, but because it throws light on a portion of the most instructive religious history of Christendom. The student of the currents and tendencies of opinions, the development of germs, will find no better field than that presented by the rise of Unitarianism in New England." — National Baptist, Philadelphia, Pa.

"We rise from the perusal of this volume with the feeling expressed by Mr. Spaulding as he closes his introduction, — 'a profound feeling of gratitude to the Society that planned these Channing Hall lectures, to the men who delivered them, and to the Association that has published them.'" — Universalist Quarterly, Boston, Mass.

"It is doubtful if the origin and history of any denomination has received more lucid, more interesting, or more adequate treatment. . . . This book is not — avowedly, at least — polemical, but historical; and as such it is a strong and able book, which will be read with interest by all fair-minded people." — Evangelist (Presbyterian), New York, N. Y.

"It is not necessary to have been born in Boston, or even in New England, or indeed to be at all in sympathy with the intellectual and spiritual movement here set forth, and which goes under the name of Unitarianism, in order to give the volume a cordial welcome, or to read it with interest and profit. It seems to us a valuable contribution to the history of modern religious thought." — Christian Intelligencer (Orthodox), New York, N. Y.

"They treat of various phases of the development of Unitarianism from the beginning, and are uniformly well-written and courteous in their tone. Some of them are intensely interesting, as giving an inside view of certain points, — such as the progress of this faith in England, its contact with German thought, and some of its early New England advocates." — Observer (Presbyterian), New York, N. Y.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

FORMED in 1825, and in 1847 legally incorporated with power to receive and hold pecuniary trusts, has been for over half a century the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

It invites to its co-operation all Unitarian Christians, the payment of fifty dollars constituting membership for life, and any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years being entitled to representation at the meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president and two additional lay delegates, provided such contributions are placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Its purpose is to serve the interests of Christianity as Unitarians understand it. To this end it collects and diffuses religious information. It publishes and distributes books and tracts. It supports missionaries, aids clergymen and young men preparing for the ministry, and helps in building churches. It seeks to produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among the Unitarian churches and people; and for its missionary activities solicits their benefactions, whether by yearly contribution or by gift of endowment funds to be held in trust.

This Association puplishes important theological and religious works by leading Unitarian writers, and offers them for sale at prices much lower than volumes of the current popular literature of similar size. At its Book Room may also be found on sale all other Unitarian works.

It offers, as a gift, a selection from its publications, of about thirty volumes, to colleges or public libraries, upon their application and assurance of welcome.

It also gives, without cost, a selection of volumes illustrating the Unitarian faith to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, who apply for them with the desire candidly to know what Unitarians believe; and Channing's Works to any minister not owning them settled over a religious society in the United States or Canada, or any student of a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, who makes application.

A full descriptive catalogue of the publications of the Association will be mailed free to any address; also a list of all books kept on sale. Any book on either list will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. Clergymen of every denomination will be supplied at a discount of twenty-five per cent.

The Tracts published by the Association, which embrace many thorough essays and discourses upon theological and practical subjects by some of the ablest writers of the denomination, are given freely to all who apply. A full list will be sent on application.

The headquarters of the Association are at

THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING,

25 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.,

where may also be found the UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY and the LADIES' COMMISSION ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS.

The building contains, besides the Rooms required for the business of the Association and other organizations, and the Reading-Room, Channing Hall and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.

PREFACE.

A STUDY of the Year-Book of 1892 ought to fill our people with cheerful faith. Our religious body has now passed through the periods of formation and organization, and has entered upon a period of great moral and spiritual activity. At the last National Conference it was reported that over sixty new parishes had come into being within two years. The call for still other new parishes continues, and in the future must steadily grow more imperative. One thing stands in the way of progress, — the scantiness of the contributions of our parishes. For years the demands upon our treasury have been many thousand dollars above the gifts of our people. Those demands must be more rather than less hereafter. So the word of the Year-Book, and the word coming through every avenue of approach to our people is and must be a call for greater generosity.

In every direction there is evidence that more minds and souls are turning to us for aid than hitherto. The circulation of our books and tracts constantly increases. Each State calls for missionary labor that we cannot furnish.

In special directions, too, our success has been apparently satisfactory. The Montana Indian School is full, and the means for its support have been furnished. In Japan the work has been thoroughly organized, a number of preaching-stations have been established, and a training-school for native ministers opened, to which eight promising pupils have come.

During the year 1891 we have lost by death from the ranks of our ministry Samuel Adams Devens, Frederic Frothingham, Thomas Lovett Gorman, Thomas Hill, Frederic Hinckley, Henry Doty Maxson, Samuel Robinson, Daniel Waldo Stevens, Loammi Goodenow Ware, John Wills, Horatio Wood. Thus each new year brings a fresh need for earnest, able, and consecrated men for posts made vacant by each year's losses.

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

THE times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{3}{4}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about $10\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about $9\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

LIST OF MINISTERS,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of a society, either as pastor or stated supply, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

THIS Association was organized in Boston, May 25, 1825. Its objects, as defined in the report of the Committee on Organization, are as follows: —

1st. To collect and diffuse information respecting the state of Unitarian Christianity in our country.

2d. To produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among Liberal Christians.

3d. To publish and distribute books and tracts, inculcating correct views of religion, in such form and at such price as shall afford all an opportunity of being acquainted with Christian truth.

4th. To supply missionaries, especially in such parts of our country as are destitute of a stated ministry.

5th. To adopt whatever other measures may hereafter seem expedient, — such as contributions in behalf of clergymen with insufficient salaries, or in aid of building churches.

The Assistant Secretary will be there every day from 9 A.M. till 5 P.M.

The office of the Treasurer is also in this Building; and all letters for him, on business connected with the Association, should be addressed to him as "Treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, Boston."

Rev. Francis Tiffany, in charge of the Association's Indian work, will be found here from 10 A. M. till 2 P. M., on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. This department, as well as that of Southern work, is under the direction of a Special Committee, consisting, on the part of the Board of Directors, of Mrs. Wells, Mr. Calder, Mr. Gaffield, and Secretary; and of Mrs. Mary Hemenway, Mrs. Stephen H. Bullard, Mrs. George F. Richardson, and Miss Ellen H. Bailey, serving by invitation of the Board.

The Building contains, besides the Book Rooms of the Association and the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, the Reading Room, and Rooms occupied by the Secretaries of the Association and other officials, Channing Hall, with seats for three hundred, and Committee Rooms of various sizes. The Hall and Committee Rooms are at the service of Unitarians for denominational meetings of all kinds, arrangements for such use to be made with the Assistant Secretary.

By-Laws of the Association.

ARTICLE I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

ART. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

ART. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

ART. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

ART. V. — The officers shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, fourteen of whom, at least, shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year each, or until their successors are chosen. The other Directors shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors are chosen; and one third shall be chosen annually.

ART. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

ART. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

ART. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

ART. IX. — Any amendment of these articles proposed at one annual meeting may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

CONSTITUTION.

PREAMBLE. — Whereas the great opportunities and demands for Christian labor and consecration, at this time, increase our sense of the obligations of all disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ to prove their faith by self-denial, and by the devotion of their lives and possessions to the service of God, and the building up of the kingdom of his Son, —

ARTICLE I. — Therefore the Christian churches of the Unitarian faith, here assembled, unite themselves in a common body, to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to the end of energizing and stimulating the denomination with which they are connected to the largest exertions in the cause of Christian faith and work.

ART. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not to exceed three from any church, including its minister, who shall officially be one, as any of our churches may accredit to it by a certificate of their appointment.

ART. III. — The American Unitarian Association, the Western Conference, and such other theological, academic, or humane organizations in our body as the Conference may see fit to invite, shall be entitled to representation by not more than three delegates each.

ART. IV. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions.

ART. V. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of ten, of whom only five shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years and until their successors are appointed. And half the number of the Council shall consist of new members, the oldest members being retired at each election, and giving place to the new members.

ART. VI. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

ART. VII. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending them to such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of the Unitarian denomination.

ART. VIII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto.

ART. IX. — Reaffirming our allegiance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and desiring to secure the largest unity of the spirit, and the widest practical co-operation, we invite to our fellowship all who wish to be followers of Christ.

ART. X. — While we believe that the Preamble and Articles of our Constitution fairly represent the opinions of the majority of our churches, yet we wish distinctly to put on record our declaration that they are no authoritative test of Unitarianism, and are not intended to exclude from our fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our purposes and practical aims.

BY-LAWS.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

11. No one admitted by the Fellowship Committee shall be entitled to claim insertion in the list of ministers until after being settled in some parish or other regular ministerial employment for at least one year.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the candidate — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of a candidate, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the candidate to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

The National Alliance with new and more enlarged methods, adopted a new Constitution which went into effect Oct. 24, 1890.

EXTRACTS FROM BY-LAWS.

The objects of the Alliance shall be —

1. Primarily, to quicken the religious life of our Unitarian churches, and to bring the women of the denomination into closer acquaintance, co-operation, and fellowship.

2. To promote local organizations of women for missionary and denominational work, and to bring the same into association.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely: —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization formed by Unitarian women for the same purposes, but not connected with any church. An Associate Branch shall be a union of two or more Branches for more effective work.

The payment of $1.00 annually to a Branch shall constitute any woman a member of the National Alliance, when one-third of such fee is sent to the National Treasury, and shall entitle her to take part in deliberative meetings, and to vote for delegates for business meetings. The payment of a smaller sum annually will constitute any woman a member of a Branch only.

One-third of all membership fees shall be sent to the National Treasury unappropriated. The remainder thereof and all other money raised for denominational purposes may be disbursed by the Branches; or, if preferred, may be sent to the National Treasury. The fee for life-membership shall be $25, all of which shall be sent to the National Treasury, unappropriated.

The National Alliance does not take part in, or supervise, work other than denominational that may be done by its Branches, but will publish in its reports work done and money raised for such purposes. While Branches still retain their independence in local work, all money contributed unappropriated to the National Treasury shall be expended only for such work as shall be in harmony with existing National Unitarian organizations; namely, the National Conference and the American Unitarian Association.

"Delegate membership shall be acquired by certificate of appointment by any religious society or organization that shall have, during the previous year, contributed not less than $5.00 to the Conference; and such society or organization may be represented by two general delegates."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETIES.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is now incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-school Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of October next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in the autumn.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 23,200 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 273,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $35.00 to $75.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.50 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

It is forty-six years since the founding of this Institution, and forty-three years since its organization under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania. It has a Board of thirty Trustees, a part of them non-resident, and a Board of Instruction. the number of whose members may be increased or diminished according to the needs of the Institution. There are at present two resident and two non-resident members of the latter Board. To it belongs the general direction of the internal affairs of the School. Assistant professors, tutors, and lecturers, not members of the official Board, are appointed from time to time to share in the duties of instruction.

Tuition is altogether free, and no charge is made by the Institution except for heating, lighting, and caring for rooms occupied by students in Divinity Hall. Two hundred dollars a year and sometimes less will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small beneficiary fund from which assistance is rendered to worthy young men in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men, but the institution has as yet no beneficiary funds available for their assistance.

The library contains about 20,000 volumes.

UNITARIANISM ABROAD.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation, and many of the first martyrs, executed under the common term "Anabaptists," were really Unitarians, mostly perhaps of an Arian type. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men. John Milton, John Locke, Sir Isaac Newton, were all non-Trinitarians. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. The churchmen, however, were bound by the creeds and articles, and the only man among them who had any permanent effect upon religious thought was Theophilus Lindsey, who in 1774 gave up his living at Catterick, in Yorkshire, and going to London, opened the first avowedly Unitarian church, — Essex Street Chapel. Among the English Presbyterians, however, there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward under the influence of men like Dr. Priestley, they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." They for the most part accepted the name very reluctantly, fearing lest it might itself become a bondage, and in their denominational institutions have always maintained the same openness of constitution which, as Presbyterians, enabled them to move onward toward liberal thought. A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which all these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number; namely: Manchester New College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), of which Dr. Martineau had long been the head till his resignation in 1885, the present faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D., Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter and Rev. C. B. Upton; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in Manchester, in 1855, to afford a theological training to men who have not been able to take an academic course, but who show marked fitness for the ministry, the Principal of which is Rev. Alexander Gordon; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism before the Unitarian division, which still continues entirely unsectarian, Orthodox and Unitarian tutors and students working together in harmony, the Professors being Mr. Walter J. Evans, Principal, Rev. Philemon Moore, and Rev. D. E. Jones.

The working centre of all the Unitarian churches is the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, founded in 1825 (the same year as the A. U. A.) in continuation of the work of the Unitarian Fund which dated from 1806. There is also a National Conference, established in 1882, and meeting once in three years. Secretary, A. W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. Henry Ierson. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Unitarian Year-Book" and the "Pocket Almanac," published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

The following is a list of the Unitarian Churches (and Ministers), with others, such as Presbyterian, General Baptist (the Old Connection), Free Christian, Universalist, etc , in fellowship and habitual association with them, — furnished by Rev. Henry Ierson of London.

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. Born of humble parents in Klausenburg, in 1510, he completed his academical education at Wittenberg, and thus had the privilege of coming face to face with the great Reformation leaders. From 1540 we find him contributing his full share of energy and thought to the consolidation of the Reformed churches in Transylvania. Up to 1557 he seems to have held the Lutheran tenets. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary, including that recently opened at Buda-Pesth, with settled pastors, is 107, besides 58 that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about 60,000. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of 350 members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. There are also five theological professors, nine ordinary professors, and about an equal number of assistant professors and teachers. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor Kovács and the Rev. Denis Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

Rev. Clay MacCauley and Rev. William I. Lawrance represent Unitarianism in Japan at Tokio, supported by the American Unitarian Association. A Unitarian review is published in the native tongue, with contributors both Japanese and American, and has a circulation of several thousands. Several native churches have been formed, and others are likely to follow. A school for the training of native ministers has been recently established, and has already eight students. Efficient aid in the general work, as well as that of the school, is rendered by Professors Wigmore, Liscomb, and Droppers.

The loss, during the past year, of the valuable services of Rev. Henry W. Hawkes, who was reluctantly compelled, for personal reason, to return to England, has been a source of great regret. It is earnestly hoped that some one of our English ministers will soon take the place which he has left vacant. The co-operation of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association with the American Unitariaa Association in this important work has been a constant cause of satisfaetion.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Out of 225 Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are Liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union), a Liberal Christian organization, numbers some 40 branches and about 27,000 members; it supports two missionaries in Japan. The Free Congregations, now in a declining condition, are more like Free Religious Associations. The Protestanten Bond, or Union, of Holland counts 13,000 members, and is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. Mons. J. Hocart, in Brussels, holds regular religious services of a Unitarian type. In Salem and Madras, in India, there are representatives of this faith.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared are replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the last ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,
FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Square 16mo, 220 pp. $6.00 a dozen; single copies, 60 cts.

This work consists of two parts. The first contains thirty-three forms of service, to which is added a collection of prayers and of collects and closing prayers. The second part contains 249 hymns, and 121 tunes, chants, and select pieces.

PREFACE.

The Year Book of 1893 brings its modest contribution to the story of our denominational life. It bears witness to an enlargement of numbers and an increase of religious activity in our body. The scanty resources of the Association have compelled it to discourage the formation of new parishes, rather than the reverse. Yet twenty societies have been added to the roll. Under different circumstances, twice as many would naturally have come into existence. The list of ministers testifies to the wide influence of our truth. The names of one hundred ministers reared in other folds have their place in this list, and not less than seventy-five of them are among our useful and honored pastors.

Every department is full of activity, and also full of need. The Church Building Loan Fund waits for the additional fifteen thousand dollars which will enable it to help six or eight new societies to build.

The Montana School is full, well taught, and its pupils are rapidly acquiring the habits of civilized life. Still, the few hundred dollars required to perfect the home and to furnish proper tools are hard to get.

The Mission to Japan with its Divinity School, in which are already enrolled seventeen native pupils, looks forward to a perpetually increasing good influence. But it waits, and has waited long, for the few thousands necessary to provide for it the simplest shelter.

The Endowment for Meadville, which can alone place it where a school of theology of to-day should be, still lacks one third of the sum proposed.

On every side are boundless opportunities. The searchings of our time, its aspirations for a more rational faith, have opened to us a wide door. Are we ready to enter it? Will our churches cast a double gift into the Lord's treasury? Will our rich men and women, and they are legion, feel that the cause of rational truth and pure Christianity has a real claim upon them? The future of the Unitarian cause must depend upon the answers which our churches and our individuals give.

The list of deaths in 1892 in the ranks of our ministry is a full one. To an unusual degree it includes the names of those who during a long life have been honorably connected with the history of our body: William Frederick Bridge, Mather Church Brown, Edwin Clarence Llewellyn Browne, Nathaniel Otis Chaffee, Frederick Augustus Farley, William Willis Hayward, Abiel Abbot Livermore, Samuel Longfellow, Samuel Foster McCleary, Jr., Artemas Bowers Muzzey, Crawford Nightingale, Charles Chauncy Shackford, George Whittemore Stacy.

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

The times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridans have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°: Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the Eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{2}{3}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N. Y.

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about $10\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about $9\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

M. It begins at Memphis at 2h. 26m., New Orleans 2h. 17m., Little Rock 2h. 6m., Topeka 1h. 32m., Kansas City 1h. 41m., Denver 0h. 16m., Salt Lake City 11h. 21m., morn., size, 4 digits; San Francisco, 10h. 12m., size, 6 digits; Portland, Ore., 10h 15m., size, 5 digits; Austin 1h. 14m., eve., size, 3 digits; New Orleans 2h. 17m., size, 1.8 digits.

List of Societies,

List of Ministers.

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies, of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of a society, either as pastor or stated supply, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

The Assistant Secretary will be there every day from 9 A.M. till 5 P.M.

The office of the Treasurer is also in this Building; and all letters for him, on business connected with the Association, should be addressed to him as "Treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, Boston."

Rev. Francis Tiffany, in charge of the Association's Indian work, will be found here from 10 A. M. till 2 P. M., on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. This department, as well as that of Southern work, is under the direction of a Special Committee, consisting, on the part of the Board of Directors, of Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Bullard, Mr. Gaffield, and the Secretary; and of Mrs. Mary Hemenway, Albert L. Calder, Mrs. George F. Richardson, and Miss Ellen H. Bailey, serving by invitation of the Board.

The Building contains, besides the Book Rooms of the Association and the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, the Reading Room, and Rooms occupied by the Secretaries of the Association and other officials, Channing Hall, with seats for three hundred, and Committee Rooms of various sizes. The Hall and Committee Rooms are at the service of Unitarians for denominational meetings of all kinds, arrangements for such use to be made with the Assistant Secretary.

By-Laws of the Association.

Article I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

Art. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

Art. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

Art. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

Art. V. — The officers shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, fourteen of whom, at least, shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year each, or until their successors are chosen. The other Directors shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors are chosen; and one third shall be chosen annually.

Art. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

Art. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

Art. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

Art. IX. — Any amendment of these articles proposed at one annual meeting may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

CONSTITUTION.

PREAMBLE. — Whereas the great opportunities and demands for Christian labor and consecration, at this time, increase our sense of the obligations of all disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ to prove their faith by self-denial, and by the devotion of their lives and possessions to the service of God, and the building up of the kingdom of his Son, —

ARTICLE I. — Therefore the Christian churches of the Unitarian faith, here assembled, unite themselves in a common body, to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to the end of energizing and stimulating the denomination with which they are connected to the largest exertions in the cause of Christian faith and work.

ART. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not to exceed three from any church, including its minister, who shall officially be one, as any of our churches may accredit to it by a certificate of their appointment.

ART. III. — The American Unitarian Association, the Western Conference, and such other theological, academic, or humane organizations in our body as the Conference may see fit to invite, shall be entitled to representation by not more than three delegates each.

ART. IV. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions.

ART. V. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of ten, of whom only five shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years and until their successors are appointed. And half the number of the Council shall consist of new members, the oldest members being retired at each election, and giving place to the new members.

ART. VI. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

ART. VII. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending them to such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of the Unitarian denomination.

ART. VIII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto.

ART. IX. — Reaffirming our allegiance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and desiring to secure the largest unity of the spirit, and the widest practical co-operation, we invite to our fellowship all who wish to be followers of Christ.

ART. X. — While we believe that the Preamble and Articles of our Constitution fairly represent the opinions of the majority of our churches, yet we wish distinctly to put on record our declaration that they are no authoritative test of Unitarianism, and are not intended to exclude from our fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our purposes and practical aims.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

11. No one admitted by the Fellowship Committee shall be entitled to claim insertion in the list of ministers until after being settled in some parish or other regular ministerial employment for at least one year.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the candidate — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of a candidate, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the candidate to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

The objects of the Alliance shall be —

1. Primarily, to quicken the religious life of our Unitarian churches, and to bring the women of the denomination into closer acquaintance, co-operation, and fellowship.

2. To promote local organizations of women for missionary and denominational work, and to bring the same into association.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely: —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization formed by Unitarian women for the same purposes, but not connected with any church. An Associate Branch shall be a union of two or more Branches for more effective work.

The payment of $1.00 annually to a Branch shall constitute any woman a member of the National Alliance, when one-third of such fee is sent to the National Treasury, and shall entitle her to take part in deliberative meetings, and to vote for delegates for business meetings. The payment of a smaller sum annually will constitute any woman a member of a Branch only.

One-third of all membership fees shall be sent to the National Treasury unappropriated. The remainder thereof and all other money raised for denominational purposes may be disbursed by the Branches; or, if preferred, may be sent to the National Treasury. The fee for life-membership shall be $25, all of which shall be sent to the National Treasury, unappropriated.

The National Alliance does not take part in, or supervise, work other than denominational that may be done by its Branches, but will publish in its reports work done and money raised for such purposes. While Branches still retain their independence in local work, all money contributed unappropriated to the National Treasury shall be expended only for such work as shall be in harmony with existing National Unitarian organizations; namely, the National Conference and the American Unitarian Association.

Sunday-School Societies.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827; Reorganized 1854; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is now incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-school Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of Every Other Sunday, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of October next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in autumn.

Theological Schools.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 24,000 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 302,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $35.00 to $80.00 a year It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.25 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

This institution was opened to students in the autumn of 1844, and chartered by the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846. By its Act of Incorporation it is placed upon an altogether unsectarian basis. It has had students from various denominations, although by far the greater number have been, and most, if not all, of those in attendance at present are believed to be in substantial sympathy with the aims of the Unitarian body.

The course of study is essentially that of other institutions having similar purposes. The length of the regular course is three years, but in special cases this time may be either abbreviated or extended.

The only pecuniary charge to students is a fee of $20.00 a year, payable toward incidental expenses by those who occupy rooms in Divinity Hall. Less than two hundred dollars will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small beneficiary fund from which assistance is rendered to worthy young men in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men, but the Institution has as yet no beneficiary funds available for their assistance.

The library contains about 23,000 volumes.

Children's Mission to the Children of the Destitute in the City of Boston. — Instituted 1849; incorporated 1864.

This Society, as its name indicates, is a work of children of the more favored families for the children of the poor; but it appeals to all for aid in carrying on its work.

Its objects are: first, the care of orphan, homeless, destitute, or neglected children, providing homes for them in the country, and adopting such measures as will save them from vice, ignorance, and degradation; and second, to excite and encourage in the young a spirit of Christian sympathy and active benevolence, by interesting them in this work which appeals so strongly to their hearts.

It takes charge of such orphan, homeless, destitute, and neglected children as can be surrendered, provides for them permanent homes into which they are adopted or received for a term of years, where they are educated, and brought up as members of the family, or taught some good trade and prepared for lives of usefulness. It continues its oversight of them while in these homes, assuring them proper care and treatment.

Temporary care is given to children whose parents by reason of poverty, destitution, or sickness, are unable to provide for them. Such children are admitted to the Home for four weeks, or as their necessities may require, giving the parents opportunities for obtaining employment or for recovery from sickness, and thus aiding to keep together and sustain the family.

For admission, children must have been vaccinated, and be free from disease. Those from five to fifteen years of age are admitted to the Home; from two to five, to the Annex.

The Children's Mission Home, 277 Tremont Street, opposite Common Street, was dedicated March 27, 1867. The office for the business of the Society is in this building, where the Superintendent or one of the missionaries may be found daily, from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared were replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the previous ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,
FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Square 16mo, 220 pp. $6.00 a dozen; single copies, 60 cts.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Being the Last Eight Discourses of JAMES FREEMAN CLARKE. 16mo. Price 50 cents.

The diction of these discourses is very simple. There are no flowers of rhetoric, no straining after effect, merely the expression of the speaker's sentiments of reverence and praise, his sense of the appeal of the mortal to the infinite, and its deeper meanings. No child can fail to understand his meaning; no thoughtful man or woman doubt the depth and sincerity of his religious feeling. — Republican, Springfield, Mass.

The writer discusses his subject with reverence, and yet without slavish adhesion to old lines of man-invented creeds. He comprehends the beauty and value of the universal petition, and regards it with eyes cleared of the mists of superstition. He speaks of it, not as an iron-bound doctrinaire, but as a man. Indeed, his whole treatment of his theme is eminently manly, and in consonance with the manliness of Christ's character, as we know it from the Scriptures. — American Bookseller, New York.

The sermons are marked by the best qualities of Dr. Clarke's style of religious discourse, — simplicity, good sense, and a vein of practical suggestion often very ingenious and forcible. — Watchman, Boston, Mass.

Dr. Clarke's extended series of books is well closed by these simple yet profound discourses, and his own devout spirit and clear insight are well marked in its pages. Universalist, Chicago, Ill.

This book will be acceptable to many not in Unitarian ranks, for its spirit, so characteristic of the gentle-hearted man who is gone, and must be dear and precious to his co-believers. — Journal, Providence, R. I.

They are devotional in character, and but for an occasional expression, could be read with approval and profit by the most orthodox Christian. — The Interior, Chicago, Ill.

An understanding of the needs of the human soul, and a straightforwardness in meeting them characterize the discourses. — Journal, Boston, Mass.

LEAVES OF HEALING.

Gathered by KATHERINE PAINE SUTTON. Square 16mo. Price $1.00.

It is a book of consolation compiled, at the suggestion of the Post-Office Mission Committee, by a lady with special fitness for the work; and many of its selections, which are from over a hundred authors, and in both prose and verse, have proved their worth by long service among the sorrowing.

The quotations from many sources that furnish these healing leaves are arranged in eight divisions: "Life's Victories," "Death's Ministry," "Immortality," "The Family in Earth and in Heaven," "Eternal Goodness," "The Father's Will," "Aspiration," and "The Perfect Trust." They will be found full of consoling and stimulating suggestions to many desponding or grieving readers. — Journal, Providence, R. I.

The taste and judgment displayed in the choice of extracts are of the highest. Every page contains some helpful thought, expressed in rare diction. It is a book of many portals, opening into light and joy. — Every Other Sunday, Boston.

In its general tone it is fresh, hopeful, and particularly vigorous, with nothing lachrymose about it. The appearance of the book, outside and in, is tasteful and attractive; and, as one turns its leaves, the aptness of the title becomes apparent. A delicacy and insight are shown in the choice of selections which give the book an unusual value. — The Unitarian, Boston.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

25 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

The American Unitarian Association,

Formed in 1825, and in 1847 legally incorporated with power to receive and hold pecuniary trusts, has been for sixty-seven years the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

It invites to its co-operation all Unitarian Christians, the payment of fifty dollars constituting membership for life, and any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years being entitled to representation at the meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president and two additional lay delegates, provided such contributions are placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Its purpose is to serve the interests of Christianity as Unitarians understand it. To this end it collects and diffuses religious information. It publishes and distributes books and tracts. It supports missionaries, aids clergymen and young men preparing for the ministry, and helps in building churches. It seeks to produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among the Unitarian churches and people; and for its missionary activities solicits their benefactions, whether by yearly contribution or by gift of endowment funds to be held in trust.

This Association publishes important theological and religious works by leading Unitarian writers, and offers them for sale at prices much lower than volumes of the current popular literature of similar size. At its Book Room may also be found on sale all other Unitarian works.

It offers, as a gift, a selection from its publications, of about forty volumes, to colleges or public libraries, upon their application and assurance of welcome.

It also gives, without cost, a selection of volumes illustrating the Unitarian faith to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, who apply for them with the desire candidly to know what Unitarians believe; and Channing's Works to any minister not owning them settled over a religious society in the United States or Canada, or any student of a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, who makes application.

A full descriptive catalogue of the publications of the Association will be mailed free to any address; also a list of all books kept on sale. Any book on either list will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. Clergymen of every denomination will be supplied at a discount of twenty-five per cent.

The Tracts published by the Association, which embrace many thorough essays and discourses upon theological and practical subjects by some of the ablest writers of the denomination, are given freely to all who apply. A full list will be sent on application.

The headquarters of the Association are at THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., where may also be found the UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY, LADIES' COMMISSION ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS, UNITARIAN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, NATIONAL BUREAU OF UNITY CLUBS, and NATIONAL GUILD ALLIANCE.

The building contains, besides the Rooms required for the business of the Association and other organizations, and the Reading-Room, Channing Hall and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.

PREFACE.

THE YEAR-BOOK OF 1893 is issued at the close of a year which has been one of remarkable financial stringency. Men have feared to undertake new enterprises; and old ones have been seriously hampered. Money, if not in reality scarce, has been hard to get for the support of work, whether material or spiritual. As a result all new religious societies, and old ones whose numbers are few, have found it difficult to gather the means essential for the support of public worship. As a result, too, the payments into the treasury of the American Unitarian Association during the last eight months have been many thousands less than the needs of our missionary work.

Under such circumstances it is pleasant to be able to say that up to the present date no branch of our work has suffered serious injury. While the number of our churches has not increased so largely as in the last few years, we have more than held our own. Our book and tract distribution, our Indian School, our Japan mission, our work of church extension have all been maintained in a healthy condition, if not in that state of full activity which the needs of the world would warrant and demand. What shall be the full record of the year when it closes April 30 must depend upon the gifts of the 350 parishes yet to be heard from. Certainly the needs of the time justify us in asking not only generosity in their gifts, but self-sacrifice.

The year has brought great losses in our ministerial ranks. Stephen Barker, Rushton Dashwood Burr, Samuel Andrew Dyberg, Clarence Fowler, Augustus Mellen Haskell, John Calvin Learned, Andrew Preston Peabody, Bjorn Peterson, Joseph William Stocks, Robert Cassie Waterston, Martin Wyman Willis, — these were good men and true, who, having done a good work, "have fallen asleep." Who shall rise up to fill their places?

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

The times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridans have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the Eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{2}{3}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about $10\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about $9\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

LIST OF MINISTERS,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of societies, either as pastors or stated supplies, or occupying other positions ministerial in character, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

BY-LAWS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

ARTICLE I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

ART. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

ART. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

ART. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two-thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

ART. V. — The officers shall be a President, six Vice-Presidents, — one of whom at the time of his election shall be from Northern New England, one from Southern New England, one from the Middle States, one from the Southern States, one from the Central West, and one from the Pacific Coast, — a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, of whom sixteen shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year, or until their successors shall be chosen. The eighteen other persons, of whom three shall be women, shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors shall be chosen; and one-third shall be chosen annually.

ART. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

ART. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

ART. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

Constitution.

Preamble. — Whereas the great opportunities and demands for Christian labor and consecration, at this time, increase our sense of the obligations of all disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ to prove their faith by self-denial, and by the devotion of their lives and possessions to the service of God, and the building up of the kingdom of his Son, —

Article I. — Therefore the Christian churches of the Unitarian faith, here assembled, unite themselves in a common body, to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to the end of energizing and stimulating the denomination with which they are connected to the largest exertions in the cause of Christian faith and work.

Art. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not to exceed three from any church, including its minister, who shall officially be one, as any of our churches may accredit to it by a certificate of their appointment.

Art. III. — The American Unitarian Association, the Western Conference, and such other theological, academic, or humane organizations in our body as the Conference may see fit to invite, shall be entitled to representation by not more than three delegates each.

Art. IV. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions.

Art. V. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of ten, of whom only five shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years and until their successors are appointed. And half the number of the Council shall consist of new members, the oldest members being retired at each election, and giving place to the new members.

Art. VI. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

Art. VII. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending them to such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of the Unitarian denomination.

Art. VIII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the delegates accredited thereto.

Art. IX. — Reaffirming our allegiance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and desiring to secure the largest unity of the spirit, and the widest practical co-operation, we invite to our fellowship all who wish to be followers of Christ.

Art. X. — While we believe that the Preamble and Articles of our Constitution fairly represent the opinions of the majority of our churches, yet we wish distinctly to put on record our declaration that they are no authoritative test of Unitarianism, and are not intended to exclude from our fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our purposes and practical aims.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

11. No one admitted by the Fellowship Committee shall be entitled to claim insertion in the list of ministers until after being settled in some parish or other regular ministerial employment for at least one year.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the candidate — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of a candidate, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the candidate to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

The objects of the Alliance shall be —

1. Primarily, to quicken the religious life of our Unitarian churches, and to bring the women of the denomination into closer acquaintance, co-operation, and fellowship.

2. To promote local organizations of women for missionary and denominational work, and to bring the same into association.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely: —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization formed by Unitarian women for the same purposes, but not connected with any church. An Associate Branch shall be a union of two or more Branches for more effective work.

The payment of $1.00 annually to a Branch shall constitute any woman a member of the National Alliance, when one-third of such fee is sent to the National Treasury, and shall entitle her to take part in deliberative meetings, and to vote for delegates for business meetings. The payment of a smaller sum annually will constitute any woman a member of a Branch only.

One-third of all membership fees shall be sent to the National Treasury unappropriated. The remainder thereof and all other money raised for denominational purposes may be disbursed by the Branches; or, if preferred, may be sent to the National Treasury. The fee for life-membership shall be $25, all of which shall be sent to the National Treasury, unappropriated.

The National Alliance does not take part in, or supervise, work other than denominational that may be done by its Branches, but will publish in its reports work done and money raised for such purposes. While Branches still retain their independence in local work, all money contributed unappropriated to the National Treasury shall be expended only for such work as shall be in harmony with existing National Unitarian organizations; namely, the National Conference and the American Unitarian Association.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETIES.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-School Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of Every Other Sunday, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the annual meeting of the Society next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in the autumn.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 25,000 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 313,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $40.00 to $80.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.25 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

This institution was opened to students in the autumn of 1844, and chartered by the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846. By its Act of Incorporation it is placed upon an altogether unsectarian basis. It has had students from various denominations, although by far the greater number have been, and most, if not all, of those in attendance at present are believed to be in substantial sympathy with the aims of the Unitarian body.

The course of study is essentially that of other institutions having similar purposes. The length of the regular course is three years, but in special cases this time may be either abbreviated or extended.

The only pecuniary charge to students is a fee of $20.00 a year, payable toward incidental expenses by those who occupy rooms in Divinity Hall. Two hundred dollars will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small beneficiary fund from which assistance is rendered to worthy young men in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men, but the Institution has as yet no invested funds available for their assistance, although they may be helped from other sources.

The library contains about 23,000 volumes.

Prospect Hill School for Girls, Greenfield, Mass. — This is an incorporated institution, in trust of the American Unitarian Association. It is maintained for the unsectarian liberal education of girls over twelve years of age. About thirty pupils are accommodated. There are three general plans of study: one, in preparation for any college; another, for graduates of high schools who wish advanced studies without entering college; a third for those who desire a general education. The aim is to give thorough instruction, under the influences of a good home, with ample opportunities for healthy physical life. The buildings, on a beautiful estate of seven acres, are commodious, and supplied with all modern conveniences. Greenfield is at the junction of the Fitchburg and Connecticut River Railroads, a little over three hours from Boston, and five hours from New York. For terms, apply to Rev. James C. Parsons, Principal.

Proctor Academy, Andover, N.H. — This academy is under the management of the Unitarian Educational Society, and situated on the Concord Division of the Boston and Maine Railroad, twenty-nine miles north of Concord. Courses of study are provided preparatory for college, and in English branches. The pleasant and healthful location, the quiet of the village, and its comparative freedom from influences which divert the mind from study, together with thorough, faithful instruction, and a wise oversight of the pupils, are confidently offered as inducements to young men and women seeking a good education. The family of the Principal live in the Boarding Hall, and the Principal has care of the pupils. The Boarding Hall is supplied with steam-heat; the Academy Building with furnaces and ventilation. For further information apply to Rev. James F. Morton, Principal.

Howard Seminary, West Bridgewater, Mass. — This is an unsectarian school of high grade for girls, founded by Benjamin B. Howard, a native of the town. It has a noble school building, experienced teachers, a good laboratory, a well-equipped gymnasium, and an excellent library. Instruction in music and art is given. The boarding-house is spacious, well lighted and ventilated. The pupils receive the care and privileges of home life. The school is situated on the line of the Old Colony Railroad near the Westdale and the West Bridgewater stations. Terms moderate. For full information send for prospectus and circulars to Horace M. Willard, Principal.

It is composed of such Branch Societies as may be formed in sympathy with the above-named purpose, either in churches or Sunday-schools, and of all persons paying the sum of one dollar annually.

The regular meetings will be held once in two years, in connection with the National Conference. In addition to the annual membership, each Branch Society shall be represented by two delegates.

UNITARIANISM ABROAD.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. Among the English Presbyterians there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number, namely: Manchester College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), the faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D., Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter and Rev. Charles B. Upton; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in Manchester, in 1855, the Principal of which is Rev. Alexander Gordon; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism, which still continues entirely unsectarian, the Professors being Walter J. Evans, Principal, Rev. Philemon Moore, and Rev. D. E. Jones.

The working centre of all the Unitarian churches is the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, founded in 1825 (the same year as the American Unitarian Association) in continuation of the work of the Unitarian Fund which dated from 1806. There is also a National Conference, established in 1882, and meeting once in three years. Secretary, Rev. Alfred W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. W. Copeland Bowie. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Unitarian Year-Book" and the "Pocket Almanac," published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary, with settled pastors, is over one hundred, besides fifty or more that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about sixty thousand. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of three hundred and fifty members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor János Kovács and the Rev. Dénes Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

Unitarianism is represented in Japan by Rev. Clay MacCauley and Rev. William I. Lawrance, missionaries of the American Unitarian Association. The new Unitarian Building, erected the past year in Tokio, furnishes ample accommodations for the school for the training of native ministers, with its increasing membership, as well as for all other departments of the Mission. A Unitarian review is published in the native tongue, with contributors both Japanese and American, and has a circulation of several thousands. Several native churches have been formed, and others are likely to follow.

The British and Foreign Unitarian Association continues to co-operate with the American Unitarian Association in this important work.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Of the Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are Liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union) is a Liberal Christian organization. The Protestanten Bond, or Union, of Holland is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. In Salem, Madras, and at Khasi Hills, in India, there are representatives of the Unitarian faith.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared were replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the previous ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6 00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

BOOK OF PRAYER AND PRAISE

FOR

Congregational Worship.

As stated in its preface: "This book is the result of the labors of a committee chosen by the Directors of the American Unitarian Association, in response to the request of a considerable number of people among the constituency which that Association aims to serve, and in accordance with a vote passed at one of its annual meetings. While there is no universal agreement among liberal churches as to the value of liturgical forms, many of them make more or less use of different printed forms of service; and there has been of late much demand for a book of worship that might find general acceptance. The work of preparing such a book was intrusted to a large and representative committee, in order that the book might be as inclusive as possible of the needs of different minds. . . . This book is the fruit of much earnest thought and work, and embodies much that is helpful and beautiful not before brought together in any book of prayer. It is now submitted to the churches with the single hope and desire that it may help men to worship in spirit and in truth."

The book contains: five full services, four introductory services; Ancient Order for Common Prayer, Collects for the Christian Year, Thanksgivings and Prayers, Communion, Baptismal, and other special services; selections from the Book of Psalms, Anthems and Psalms for special occasions, etc.

A BOOK OF CHANTS has been prepared, containing music for all the words appointed to be sung throughout the services; and the PSALTER can be had bound by itself.

Copies of these books will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of the following prices: Book of Prayer and Praise, bound in leather, $1.00; Book of Chants, cloth, 75 cents; Psalter, cloth, 60 cents. Prices to societies introducing the books and to clergymen, 80, 60, and 50 cents, respectively.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

25 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

The American Unitarian Association,

Formed in 1825, and in 1847 legally incorporated with power to receive and hold pecuniary trusts, has been for sixty-eight years the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

It invites to its co-operation all Unitarian Christians, the payment of fifty dollars constituting membership for life, and any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years being entitled to representation at the meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president and two additional lay delegates, provided such contributions are placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Its purpose is to serve the interests of Christianity as Unitarians understand it. To this end it collects and diffuses religious information. It publishes and distributes books and tracts. It supports missionaries, aids clergymen and young men preparing for the ministry, and helps in building churches. It seeks to produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among the Unitarian churches and people; and for its missionary activities solicits their benefactions, whether by yearly contribution or by gift of endowment funds to be held in trust.

This Association publishes important theological and religious works by leading Unitarian writers, and offers them for sale at prices much lower than volumes of the current popular literature of similar size. At its Book Room may also be found on sale all other Unitarian works.

It offers, as a gift, a selection from its publications, of about forty volumes, to colleges or public libraries, upon their application and assurance of welcome.

It also gives, without cost, a selection of volumes illustrating the Unitarian faith to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, who apply for them with the desire candidly to know what Unitarians believe; and Channing's Works to any minister not owning them settled over a religious society in the United States or Canada, or any student of a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, who makes application.

A full descriptive catalogue of the publications of the Association will be mailed free to any address; also a list of all books kept on sale. Any book on either list will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. Clergymen of every denomination will be supplied at a discount of twenty-five per cent.

The Tracts published by the Association, which embrace many thorough essays and discourses upon theological and practical subjects by some of the ablest writers of the denomination, are given freely to all who apply. A full list will be sent on application.

The headquarters of the Association are at THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., where may also be found the UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY, LADIES' COMMISSION ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS, UNITARIAN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, NATIONAL BUREAU OF UNITY CLUBS, and NATIONAL GUILD ALLIANCE.

The building contains, besides the Rooms required for the business of the Association and other organizations, and the Reading-Room, Channing Hall and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.

☞ The publications of the Association can be obtained in New York at the HEADQUARTERS OF THE MIDDLE STATES CONFERENCE, 104 East Twentieth Street, in Chicago of UNITY PUBLISHING COMPANY, 175 Dearborn Street; and in San Francisco at the PACIFIC COAST HEADQUARTERS, Room 46, Crocker Building, corner of Market and Post Streets.

PREFACE.

BY the spirit and action of our Conference at Saratoga, our plans and expectations have been lifted to a higher level. With a new and more cheerful sense of obligation and opportunity, therefore, we send greeting to the churches. We believe that they expect greater things than ever from our associated agencies, and that our loyal men and women everywhere see, as they have never seen before, how through these agencies they can serve the commonwealth of humanity. Our task now is to gather up our scattered resources of money, men and women, our desires, our plans, our faith, hope, and charity, and bring them all to bear upon the advancement among men of the practical religion taught by Jesus, — love to God and love to man. If there is any higher use for money or any higher privilege and duty than this, God has not yet revealed it to his children.

During the year death has taken from the ranks of our ministry Henry Clay Badger, Edgar Buckingham, John Cordner, Sylvan Stanley Hunting, William Oxnard Moseley, Alpheus Sanford Nickerson, William James Potter, and Grindall Reynolds.

As the chief superintendent of our work, Dr. Reynolds wrought so honestly and so manfully, in troublous times, with difficult tasks, that now all unite to testify to the worth of his character and the value of his service. He and these others are gone from our sight, but the roll of our saints is so much the longer and dearer to us.

At our next Annual Meeting we shall celebrate the seventieth anniversary of our Association. It would be well if at that time there might be such great new things to record in fulfilment of the hopes of our predecessors that we should forget to look backward. They set before us a high ideal. The greatest things we can do will no more than fulfil their just expectations.

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

The times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times (regulated by the position of the sun with regard to the meridian of each place) such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°.

The Eastern standard meridian, for the Eastern part of the United States, passes about $\frac{2}{3}$ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Central standard meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about $10\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time east of it.

The Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.

The Pacific standard meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about $9\frac{1}{2}$ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within $7\frac{1}{2}°$ of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

List of Societies,

List of Ministers,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply

Ministers not in charge of societies, either as pastors or stated supplies, or occupying other positions ministerial in character, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

Article I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

Art. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

Art. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

Art. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

Art. V. — The officers shall be a President, six Vice-Presidents, — one of whom at the time of his election shall be from Northern New England, one from Southern New England, one from the Middle States, one from the Southern States, one from the Central West, and one from the Pacific Coast, — a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, of whom sixteen shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year, or until their successors shall be chosen. The eighteen other persons, of whom three shall be women, shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors shall be chosen; and one-third shall be chosen annually.

Art. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

ART. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

ART. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

ART. IX. — Any amendment of these articles proposed at one annual meeting may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

CONSTITUTION.

The Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches was formed in the year 1865, with the purpose of strengthening the churches and societies which should unite in it for more and better work for the kingdom of God. These churches accept the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with his teaching, that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man.

The Conference recognizes the fact that its constituency is Congregational in tradition and polity. Therefore, it declares that nothing in this Constitution is to be construed as an authoritative test; and we cordially invite to our working fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our spirit and our practical aims.

ARTICLE I. — The churches and other organizations here represented unite themselves in a common body to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches.

ART. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not exceeding three from any church or other affiliated organization, as may be invited by the council, and accredited to it by a certificate of their appointment.

ART. III. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions, unless otherwise directed by the Council.

ART. IV. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of twelve, including the general Secretary and Treasurer, of whom not more than half shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Central Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years, or until their successors are appointed.

ART. V. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

ART. VI. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.

ART. VII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto, provided public announcement of the proposed amendment has been given three months in advance.

BY-LAWS.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference, shall unless, the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

11. No one admitted by the Fellowship Committee shall be entitled to claim insertion in the list of ministers until after being settled in some parish or other regular ministerial employment for at least one year.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received adequate instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, as shown by a certificate of the Faculty of the School in which he has studied, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the applicant — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of an applicant, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee. Exception, however, shall be made in cases in which the sub-committee making the examination recommends that the applicant be put on a year's probation, with license to preach as a candidate in our pulpits. In all cases of this kind, the certificate shall not be issued until the applicant shall have received a call to the pastorate of one of our churches.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the applicant to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

2. To promote local organizations of women for missionary and denominational work, and to bring the same into association.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely: —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization formed by Unitarian women for the same purposes, but not connected with any church. An Associate Branch shall be a union of two or more Branches for more effective work.

The payment of $1.00 annually to a Branch shall constitute any woman a member of the National Alliance, when one-third of such fee is sent to the National Treasury, and shall entitle her to take part in deliberative meetings, and to vote for delegates for business meetings. The payment of a smaller sum annually will constitute any woman a member of a Branch only.

One-third of all membership fees shall be sent to the National Treasury unappropriated. The remainder thereof and all other money raised for denominational purposes may be disbursed by the Branches; or, if preferred, may be sent to the National Treasury. The fee for life-membership shall be $25, all of which shall be sent to the National Treasury, unappropriated.

The National Alliance does not take part in, or supervise, work other than denominational that may be done by its Branches, but will publish in its reports work done and money raised for such purposes. # Sunday-School Societies.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-School Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the annual meeting of the Society next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in the autumn.

Theological Schools.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 26,000 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 323,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $40.00 to $80.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.10 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

This institution was opened to students in the autumn of 1844, and chartered by the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846. By its Act of Incorporation it is placed upon an altogether unsectarian basis. It has had students from various denominations, although by far the greater number have been, and most, if not all, of those in attendance at present are believed to be in substantial sympathy with the aims of the Unitarian body.

The course of study is essentially that of other institutions having similar purposes. The length of the regular course is three years, but in special cases this time may be either abbreviated or extended.

The only pecuniary charge to students is a small annual fee, covering a portion of the cost of heating and lighting and otherwise caring for the school buildings. Two hundred dollars will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small beneficiary fund from which assistance is rendered to worthy young men in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men, but the Institution has as yet no invested funds available for their assistance, although they may be helped from other sources.

The library contains about 23,000 volumes.

Unitarianism Abroad.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. Among the English Presbyterians there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number, namely: Manchester College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), the faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D., Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter, Rev. Charles B. Upton, and Rev. J. Edwin Odgers; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in Manchester, in 1855, the Principal of which is Rev. Alexander Gordon; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism, which still continues entirely unsectarian, the Professors being Walter J. Evans, Principal, Rev. Philemon Moore, and Rev. D. E. Jones.

The working centre of all the Unitarian churches is the British and Foreign Unitarian Association, founded in 1825 (the same year as the American Unitarian Association) in continuation of the work of the Unitarian Fund which dated from 1806. There is also a National Conference, established in 1882, and meeting once in three years. Secretary, Rev. Alfred W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. W. Copeland Bowie. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Unitarian Year-Book" and the "Pocket Almanac," published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary, with settled pastors, is over one hundred, besides fifty or more that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about sixty thousand. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of three hundred and fifty members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor János Kovács and the Rev. Dénes Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

Unitarianism is represented in Japan by Rev. Clay MacCauley, missionary of the American Unitarian Association. The new Unitarian Building in Tokio furnishes ample accommodations for the school for the training of native ministers, with its increasing membership, as well as for all other departments of the Mission. A Unitarian review is published in the native tongue, with contributors both Japanese and American, and has a circulation of several thousands. Several native churches have been formed, and others are likely to follow.

The British and Foreign Unitarian Association continues to co-operate with the American Unitarian Association in this important work.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Of the Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are Liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union) is a Liberal Christian organization. The Protestanten Bond, or Union, of Holland is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. In Salem, Madras, and at Khasi Hills, in India, there are representatives of the Unitarian faith.

This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.

The hymns and tunes that could best be spared were replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the previous ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.

The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.

The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.

The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.

☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Sermons of Courage and Cheer.

By Rev. BROOKE HERFORD, D.D.,

Minister of Rosslyn Hill Chapel, Hampstead, and sometime Preacher to Harvard University, author of "The Story of Religion in England," etc.

12mo. $1.25, with ten cents for postage when sent by mail.

The dedication of this book is as follows: "To the many dear parishioners and friends, both in England and America, whom I have tried to help by the spoken word, I dedicate these printed words." And it contains twenty-two Sermons on the following subjects: The Perseverance of Sinners; The Strength of Character, the Strength of its Weakest Part; The Beauty of Holiness; Ten Prayers to One Thanksgiving; Paul's Experience of Prayer; "Stand, therefore!" "Remember Lot's Wife"; Visitations of God; Life under Authority; The Gospel for the Unsuccessful; The Mystery of Nature, — in the Light of the Psalms; The Mystery of Man, — in the Light of Christ; The Deceitfulness of Riches; Moses' Discouragement; Christ's Help for the Individual; "Ye are not your Own"; Christianity with a "but"; The Changing of Crosses into Crowns; Christ's Emphasis on Life; "All Things are Yours"; Rest in the Lord, — while Working; Rest in the Lord, — after Working.

"The first thing which any American reader will say of these sermons is that they are like the author himself. They have the same wholesome, affectionate, genuine manliness which has made Mr. Herford, in this country as in his own, so unreservedly trusted and loved. . . . They are thoughtful about things which most preachers neglect, but which make the greater part of human life; and they are profound in their wise reading of human hearts. . . . It will renew in this country the happiest reminiscences of a devoted and indefatigable servant of the common good, welcomed as hardly any other preacher of our time, both in our churches and our universities, as a wholesome and refreshing influence." — Christian Register, Boston.

"All who have ever listened to the Rev. Dr. Brooke Herford, formerly minister of the Arlington Street Church in this city and now of London, will at once confess the appropriateness of the title he has given to this volume. He is a courageous and cheerful preacher in the best sense of these two adjectives, and he helps his hearers to think straighter by his sagacious counsels and to feel stronger and act more generously after contact with such a manly adviser." — Literary World, Boston.

"These sermons are worthy of a place in the libraries of the home, the Sunday School, and the minister's study, for they have something to say of vital value to both young and old, leader and follower." — Every Other Sunday, Boston.

"Dr. Herford has chosen a characteristic title for a volume of characteristic discourses. They are full of practical good sense, of sympathy for the difficulties of life, and of help for those who are seeking to do right. The whole of the discourses show a bright clear style and earnest helpful spirit." — Guardian, Manchester, Eng.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

25 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

The American Unitarian Association,

Formed in 1825, and in 1847 legally incorporated with power to receive and hold pecuniary trusts, has been for sixty-nine years the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

It invites to its co-operation all Unitarian Christians, the payment of fifty dollars constituting membership for life, and any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years being entitled to representation at the meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president and two additional lay delegates, provided such contributions are placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Its purpose is to serve the interests of Christianity as Unitarians understand it. To this end it collects and diffuses religious information. It publishes and distributes books and tracts. It supports missionaries, aids clergymen and young men preparing for the ministry, and helps in building churches. It seeks to produce union, sympathy, and co-operation among the Unitarian churches and people; and for its missionary activities solicits their benefactions, whether by yearly contribution or by gift of endowment funds to be held in trust.

This Association publishes important theological and religious works by leading Unitarian writers, and offers them for sale at prices much lower than volumes of the current popular literature of similar size. At its Book Room may also be found on sale all other Unitarian works.

It offers, as a gift, a selection from its publications, of about forty volumes, to colleges or public libraries, upon their application and assurance of welcome.

It also gives, without cost, a selection of volumes illustrating the Unitarian faith to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, who apply for them with the desire candidly to know what Unitarians believe; and Channing's Works to any minister not owning them settled over a religious society in the United States or Canada, or any student of a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, who makes application.

A full descriptive catalogue of the publications of the Association will be mailed free to any address; also a list of all books kept on sale. Any book on either list will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. Clergymen of every denomination will be supplied at a discount of twenty-five per cent.

The Tracts published by the Association, which embrace many thorough essays and discourses upon theological and practical subjects by some of the ablest writers of the denomination, are given freely to all who apply. A full list will be sent on application.

The headquarters of the Association are at THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION BUILDING, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., where may also be found the UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY, LADIES' COMMISSION ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS, UNITARIAN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, NATIONAL BUREAU OF UNITY CLUBS, and NATIONAL GUILD ALLIANCE.

The building contains, besides the Rooms required for the business of the Association, and other organizations, and the Reading-Room, Channing Hall and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.

☞ The publications of the Association can be obtained in New York at the HEADQUARTERS OF THE MIDDLE STATES CONFERENCE, 104 East Twentieth Street, in Chicago of UNITY PUBLISHING COMPANY, 175 Dearborn Street; and in San Francisco at the PACIFIC COAST HEADQUARTERS, Room 81, Crocker Building, corner of Market and Post Streets.

PREFACE.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR to all who love their fellow-men! May their number increase and their good deeds be multiplied. May sectarian warfare cease, and in all churches of whatever name, may the wise and the good seek to find each other out and to discover new ways in which they can work together for the welfare of the world. May our own beloved Church gladly, humbly, and resolutely accept its own mission with all its weight of responsibility. Seeking fellowship with all who practise righteousness and love truth, may it be a generous and high-minded interpreter of the religion of Jesus in all the works and ways which tend to reveal God as the Father and Friend of our race.

According to the law of progress, social, civil, and religious institutions are always changing, are always on trial, are always less good than the better thing to come. The statement that all present institutions are wrong and on the way to perdition, is a harmful half truth. The whole truth inspires a cheerful faith. Institutions are the clothes of civilization. When new garments are ready, the old may be laid aside. There is a large place and a warm welcome ready for the church which, by example and precept, can teach the nations how they may go swiftly forward without the shock of revolution or the dangers of anarchy, with the least suffering and the greatest good to all classes in all conditions.

Without indulging in overgrown hopes and vain expectations, we may expect to have in a few years a thousand churches in the United States, which will be centres of moral influence and sources of spiritual power. In this work, and in all the many activities which attend it, the officers of the American Unitarian Association will gladly lead just so fast and so far as they have following, sympathy, personal co-operation, and financial support.

From the ranks of the ministry death has removed during the year, Loring Everett Beckwith, William Martin Bicknell, George Ware Briggs, William Cushing, Obed Eldridge, George Edward Ellis, Octavius Brooks Frothingham, Frederic West Holland, Henry Adolphus Miles, Walter Clifford Moore, John Farwell Moors, Charles Ware Park, Helen Grace Putnam, Thomas Treadwell Stone, Edmund Burke Willson, and Augustus Woodbury. This is a list of very remarkable persons. Ten of them had passed seventy years, five had passed eighty, and Dr. Stone was in his ninety-fifth year. And yet, these ten men, since they passed three score years and ten, have without exception illustrated the fact that youth of spirit, a cheerful outlook upon the world, and fresh hopes for the future, whether here or elsewhere, are the natural blessings of an old age which follows a youth well spent and a long life filled with high thinking and good deeds. The other six, somewhat less renowned, faithful to their tasks, leave an unblemished record. They would gladly have done more had time been allotted to them.

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

The times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°. The Eastern standard meridian, for the Eastern part of the United States, passes about ⅔ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N.Y.; the Central meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about 10½ minutes of time east of it; the Mountain meridian through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.; the Pacific meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about 9½ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within 7½° of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within 7½° of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

ECLIPSES.

THERE will be four eclipses, two of the Sun and two of the Moon, this year.

I. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, February 13, invisible in the United States. Visible as a Partial Eclipse in South Africa, Patagonia, and on the coast of Brazil. This will recur in 1914, February 24, but not visible in the United States.

II. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, February 28, invisible in the United States, but visible generally in the eastern hemisphere. Size, 10½ digits on the northern limb. This Eclipse will recur in 1914, March 10, being then nearly total, and visible in North and South America.

III. A Total Eclipse of the Sun, August 8, 9, invisible in the United States, except a partial phase in Alaska. The larger portion of Europe and Asia will see the partial phase, the line of totality passing through Siberia and Northern China and Ezo Island. This recurs in 1914, August 21, and the total phase passes from Southern Greenland through Norway, Sweden, Russia, and India.

IV. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon of nearly nine digits on the southern limb, August 22, 23, visible generally in America. This recurs September 4 1914, with 10¾ digits, and visible in Asia. See the annexed table and diagram: —

LIST OF MINISTERS,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of societies, either as pastors or stated supplies, or occupying other positions ministerial in character, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

BY-LAWS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

ARTICLE I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

ART. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

ART. III. — The churches contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Delegate members shall have the right to vote at all meetings of the Association.

ART. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

ART. V. — The officers shall be a President, six Vice-Presidents, — one of whom at the time of his election shall be from Northern New England, one from Southern New England, one from the Middle States, one from the Southern States, one from the Central West, and one from the Pacific Coast, — a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, of whom sixteen shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year, or until their successors shall be chosen. The eighteen other persons, of whom three shall be women, shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors shall be chosen; and one-third shall be chosen annually.

ART. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

ART. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

ART. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

Constitution.

The Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches was formed in the year 1865, with the purpose of strengthening the churches and societies which should unite in it for more and better work for the kingdom of God. These churches accept the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with his teaching, that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man.

The Conference recognizes the fact that its constituency is Congregational in tradition and polity. Therefore, it declares that nothing in this Constitution is to be construed as an authoritative test; and we cordially invite to our working fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our spirit and our practical aims.

Article I. — The churches and other organizations here represented unite themselves in a common body to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches.

Art. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not exceeding three from any church or other affiliated organization, as may be invited by the council, and accredited to it by a certificate of their appointment.

Art. III. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions, unless otherwise directed by the Council.

Art. IV. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of twelve, including the general Secretary and Treasurer, of whom not more than half shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Central Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years, or until their successors are appointed.

Art. V. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

Art. VI. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.

Art. VII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto, provided public announcement of the proposed amendment has been given three months in advance.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches ; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

11. No one admitted by the Fellowship Committee shall be entitled to claim insertion in the list of ministers until after being settled in some parish or other regular ministerial employment for at least one year.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received adequate instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, as shown by a certificate of the Faculty of the School in which he has studied, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the applicant — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of an applicant, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee. Exception, however, shall be made in cases in which the sub-committee making the examination recommends that the applicant be put on a year's probation, with license to preach as a candidate in our pulpits. In all cases of this kind, the certificate shall not be issued until the applicant shall have received a call to the pastorate of one of our churches.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the applicant to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETIES.

THE UNITARIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-School Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the annual meeting of the Society next following the receipt of such contribution; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in the autumn.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 26,500 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 334,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $40.00 to $80.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.10 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

This institution was opened to students in the autumn of 1844, and chartered by the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846. By its Act of Incorporation it is placed upon an altogether unsectarian basis. It has had students from various denominations, although by far the greater number have been, and most, if not all, of those in attendance at present are believed to be in substantial sympathy with the aims of the Unitarian body.

The course of study is essentially that of other institutions having similar purposes. The length of the regular course is three years, but in special cases this time may be either abbreviated or extended.

The only pecuniary charge to students is a small annual fee, covering a portion of the cost of heating and lighting and otherwise caring for the school buildings. Two hundred dollars will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School has a small fund from which assistance is rendered, under certain conditions, to worthy young men in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men.

The library contains about 27,000 volumes.

UNITARIANISM ABROAD.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation, and many of the first martyrs executed under the common term "Anabaptists" were really Unitarians, or Arians. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men, including John Milton, John Locke, Sir Isaac Newton. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. The churchmen, however, were bound by the creeds and articles, and the only man among them who had any permanent effect upon religious thought was Theophilus Lindsey, who in 1774 gave up his living at Catterick, in Yorkshire, and going to London, opened the first avowedly Unitarian church, — Essex Street Chapel (since removed to Kensington as "Essex Chapel"). Among the English Presbyterians, however, there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward under the influence of men like Dr. Priestley, they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." They, for the most part, accepted the name very reluctantly, fearing lest it might itself become a bondage, and in their denominational institutions have always maintained the same openness of constitution which as Presbyterians enabled them to move onward toward liberal thought. A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which all these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number, namely: Manchester College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), of which Dr. Martineau had long been the head till his resignation in 1885, the present faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D., Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter, M.A., Rev. C. B. Upton, Rev. J. E. Odgers, M.A., and Chaplain, Rev. Stopford A. Brooke, M.A., LL.D.; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in 1855, to afford a theological training to men who have not been able to have an academic course, but who show marked fitness for the ministry; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism before the Unitarian division, which still continues entirely unsectarian, Orthodox and Unitarian tutors and students working together in harmony.

The National Conference of all these Unitarian and allied Free Christian churches was established in 1882, meeting once in three years. Secretary, A. W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge. The next Triennial Conference will be in 1897, at Sheffield.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is at The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. W. Copeland Bowie. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Essex Hall Year-Book," and the "Unitarian Pocket Almanac," both published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

Without attempting to supply a full list of congregations and ministers, it may be interesting to add a few leading facts.

England. — There are 279 of our churches, large and small: in London, 25; Manchester, 15; Liverpool, 6; Birmingham, 7; and one more in all considerable cities, amongst which may be specially mentioned Chester, often the first stopping-place of Americans, where our chapel is that once associated with the ministry of Matthew Henry.

Wales has Unitarian churches in Cardiff, Carmarthen, Aberdare, and a number in the South Wales colliery districts, making a total of 33.

Scotland has eight or nine, two being in Glasgow; one each in Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, etc.

Ireland has 38, almost all in Ulster (5 in Belfast).

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary, with settled pastors, is over one hundred, besides fifty or more that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about sixty thousand. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of three hundred and fifty members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor János Kovács and the Rev. Dénes Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

The American Unitarian Association is represented in Japan by a Mission, having its headquarters in Unity Hall, Tokio. The Rev. Clay MacCauley is the Superintendent of the Mission and President of the Training School for native students. Prof. Garrett Droppers, who is also a professor in a Japanese university, gives instruction in Sociology and Ethics. The other lectureships in the school are filled by Japanese scholars trained for the purpose, who also, in large part, do the work of the Post-Office Mission, the translation of Unitarian books, and the editing of a Unitarian review. There are now ten native professors and assistants. The expenses of the Mission are met by appropriations made by the American Unitarian Association, including the income of the Hayward Fund, and fifty pounds from the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Of the Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are Liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union) is a Liberal Christian organization. The Protestanten Bond, or Union, of Holland is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. In Salem, Madras, and at Khasi Hills, in India, there are representatives of the Unitarian faith.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.
This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.
The hymns and tunes that could best be spared were replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the previous ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.
The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.
The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.
The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.
☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,
FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Square 16mo, 220 pp. $6.00 a dozen; single copies, 60 cts.
This work consists of two parts. The first contains thirty-three forms of service, to which is added a collection of prayers and of collects and closing prayers. The second part contains 249 hymns, and 121 tunes, chants, and select pieces.

Hymns for Church and Home:
WITH TUNES. Hymns edited by Mrs. Mary W. Tileston; tunes edited by Arthur Foote.
This book is based upon "Hymns for the Church Universal," but in the new form has many important changes and additions.
It is a square 8vo, of 512 pp., containing 801 hymns, and is handsomely and substantially bound in morocco.
Price, $1.50; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the book, and to clergymen; to whom a copy will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of $1.20. (See third page of cover.)

HYMNS FOR CHURCH AND HOME:

WITH TUNES.

Hymns edited by Mrs. MARY W. TILESTON; Tunes edited by ARTHUR FOOTE. Square 8vo, of 512 pp. containing 801 Hymns, and handsomely and substantially bound in morocco. Price, $1.50, with a discount of 20 per cent. to societies introducing the book and to clergymen, to whom a copy will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of $1.20.

This book is based upon "Hymns for the Church Universal," but in the new form has many important changes and additions. As stated in the Preface, "endeavor has been made to provide an ample number of hymns of thankfulness, joy, and hope, and of active service."

First of all, it is undeniably a handsome book. Perhaps we may even go so far as to say that it is unusually handsome. Paper and printing are of the best; and the result is a very attractive page, which it is a pleasure to contemplate simply as a work of art.

The music contained in this book ought to be good. Certainly it has passed the inspection of a competent judge. Much of it is new. There is said to have been a great advance in the art of writing hymn-tunes. Particularly, the music of the English Church is said to have been greatly enriched in recent years in this direction. As many of these new tunes bear the names of composers who are thus accredited as good authors, it is fair to assume that we have in this book a valuable contribution of music that is new to most of our churches.

As to the literary qualities of the work, it is possible to speak with more assurance, and to say that they are unquestionably of a high order. All who know anything of Mrs. Tileston's taste in religious poetry would expect this. — Christian Register, Boston, Mass.

As for substance, it contains the results of Mrs. Tileston's editing, and that is a sure guarantee of poetical excellence. The music has been edited by Mr. Arthur Foote, and his taste is unquestioned. Herein are treasures new and old. Aided by the experiences of the past, both Mrs. Tileston and Mr. Foote have endeavored to give churches what may be called a "working" book of praise. We mean by that, such a collection of tunes as embodies old and new, difficult and easy, stately and bright music. On the other hand, the hymns are of wide range, combining the austereness of Watts with the graciousness of Whittier. The best modern poets are represented in this collection, as well as the standard writers. Of course the whole tone of the collection is congenial to the tastes and wishes of liberal Christians. — Every Other Sunday, Boston, Mass.

FIVE SERVICES FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP,

With Services for Special Occasions.

16mo, of 226 pp., bound in cloth. Sold, at retail, for 50 cents, and to societies introducing it, and to clergymen, for 40 cents, to whom, for that amount, a copy will be sent postage paid.

As stated in its Preface, "The preparation of this book was undertaken in response to a demand for some new book of worship less costly than the book entitled 'Prayer and Praise' and of somewhat different character. The 'Five Services,' here republished, have been arranged in such order that the Te Deum may be sung on the second and fourth Sundays of the month instead of the first and second; and various other changes have been made corresponding to suggestions received from ministers who desire to use them. Especially, an attempt has been made to introduce into the 'rubric' the utmost possible degree of flexibility."

The principle apparently followed by the committee in making this revision has been to gain more spirit and freedom in the general atmosphere of each service, and this desirable aim has been well accomplished. . . . Altogether, this book will be generally very acceptable; and wherever it is introduced, the beauty of its noble utterances cannot fail to deepen and inspire the highest spiritual life. — The Unitarian, Boston, Mass.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

The American Unitarian Association,

Founded in 1825, incorporated in 1847, made a delegate body in 1885, has been for seventy years the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

The Association, while it stands close to the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches, is distinguished from it by an act of incorporation which gives it power to hold property, to make contracts, and to transact business requiring the receipt and expenditure of money. But the officers of the Conference and the Association are in many cases the same persons, and the Association heartily accepts the recent declarations of the National Conference as declarations of its own spirit and purpose.

Any church or missionary association, of two years' standing, having made two successive annual contributions to the funds of the Association on or before May 1, of any year, is entitled to representation by its minister or president and two lay delegates at the annual meeting following the last contribution. Life members are made on payment of fifty dollars.

The Association seeks to promote sympathy and united action among Unitarians throughout the country, and through churches, clubs, conferences, and other societies, to spread the principles which are believed by Unitarians to be essential to civil and religious liberty and progress, and to the highest attainments of the spiritual life. To this end, it supports missionaries, holds conventions, aids in building churches, publishes, sells, and distributes by gift, books, essays, sermons, collections of hymns, prayers, and other devotional works.

At its Book Room are sold its own publications and all other theological and religious works by Unitarian writers. Any obtainable Unitarian book will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. To all clergymen a discount of twenty-five per cent is made. A catalogue of its own publications which are for sale, of tracts which are given away, or a list of other Unitarian books, will be sent on application.

The Association gives to all who ask any of the tracts in its list; Channing's Works to any student in a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, or to any minister not owning them settled over a religious Society in the United States or Canada. It also gives to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, asking for them, a few volumes suitable for those who wish to study the principles of Unitarianism, and to colleges and public libraries about forty of its own publications on assurance that they will be welcome.

The headquarters of the American Unitarian Association are at its building, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., where may also be found the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women, Ladies' Commission on Sunday-School Books, Unitarian Temperance Society, National Bureau of Unity Clubs, and National Guild Alliance.

The building contains, besides the rooms required for the business of the Association and other organizations, the Reading Room, Channing Hall, and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.

PREFACE.

THE New Year comes bringing new hope, and again teaching the lesson that most of the evil things we expect never come. We have passed through a period of depression affecting all the forces of civilization. Now, from the holiday season looking backward, we can see that most of the unrest, doubt, suspicion, and fear were without justification.

As a church, we go forward with the assurance of an increasing number of friends and co-workers in the religious world, with the certainty also of a more open and pronounced antagonism from the vast majority of those who do not wish to be accounted our friends and helpers. The "drifting" of the Christian Church towards liberal interpretations of Christianity has opened a clear space between those who have left the ancient moorings and those who have not. The majority will not quickly come our way. Meanwhile we have an opportunity, a message, and a duty, which lay upon us severe and honorable responsibilities. The Unitarian Church of America has to-day one eminent advantage. While granting a larger liberality than any other body of Christians, it is more nearly a unit in spirit, purpose, and belief than any other religious body in the world. Without aiming at conformity or uniformity, it has drawn together with a few central truths for the attracting power. In accordance with the teaching of Jesus, it holds that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man. That is a basis of union which no religious body can afford to neglect.

The names stricken from the list of ministers are few, but for honorable service how distinguished! — Charles Frederic Bradley, William Henry Furness, William Roland Grenville Mellen, Clifton Elijah Montague, John Hopkins Morison, and James Barnes Morrison. Of these, Montague fell at the beginning of his career; J. B. Morrison passed through the darkness of mental aberration; of the other four it may be said that the eminence of each was proportioned to his age and to the length of his service. Bradley, with twenty-seven years in the ministry, was wise and good beyond most of his fellows, and beyond the knowledge of all but the few who divined the greatness hidden behind his modesty. Mellen was for fifty-three years a gracious and persuasive incarnation of the truth he taught. Dr. Morison, during fifty-eight years eminent for Christian scholarship and virtue, adorned and dignified his post both as editor and minister. For seventy-one years Furness shone with steady light, firm of purpose, broad in sympathy, having a genius for the interpretation of the divine side of human nature and life.

We celebrate ministers in our record because they are few. Were the list extended to include laymen and women of eminent ability and virtue, space would fail us, — a fact which we regret the more when the name of such a man as Governor Frederic T. Greenhalge drops from the list of our life members.

GEORGE BATCHELOR, Secretary.

THE NEW STANDARDS OF TIME.

The times given in this Year-Book, unless designated as in accordance with the railroad standards of time, are the local astronomical mean times such as they were before the adoption of the railroad standards.

Standard meridians have been adopted as follows: Intercolonial, 60° west from Greenwich, Eng.; Eastern, 75°; Central, 90°; Mountain, 105°; Pacific, 120°. The Eastern standard meridian, for the Eastern part of the United States, passes about ⅔ of a minute of time east of Philadelphia, and very nearly through Ogdensburg, N. Y.; the Central meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and Chicago is about 10½ minutes of time east of it; the Mountain meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Col.; the Pacific meridian is near the Pacific coast, San Francisco being about 9½ minutes of time west of it.

For the several standard meridians themselves the times of the Year-Book will be correct. But for any place east of either of these standard meridians, and within 7½° of it, one minute of time must be subtracted from the Year-Book times for every quarter of a degree of longitude that the place is distant from that standard meridian, or four minutes of time for each degree.

For a place west of any standard meridian, and within 7½° of it, add one minute of time for each quarter of a degree, or four minutes of time for each degree of distance from that standard, to the Year-Book times.

ECLIPSES.

There will be only two eclipses this year, both of the sun.

I. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, February 1. Invisible north of a line drawn from near Austin, Texas, to Boston. South of that line a very small partial eclipse on the sun's southern limb will be visible a short time before sunset, and on the Atlantic coast from Charleston, S. C., to Boston the Sun will set with the eclipse upon it. The annular phase will be seen in Colombia and Venezuela, ending at the Island of Trinidad.

This eclipse returns again in 1915, February 13, and will then be seen in the Southern parts of Europe and Asia.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, July 29, in the morning, the partial phase on the southern limb being visible in all parts of the United States except Alaska. Visible also in the Southern parts of British America and in nearly all of South America. The central or annular phase passes across Mexico, Cuba at Havana, and the eastern extremity of Brazil. See annexed table : —

List of Ministers,

WITH THEIR RESIDENCES.

This list, revised by the Committee on Fellowship of the National Conference, in accordance with the vote of that body, is intended to give the names of all persons who have charge of Unitarian societies in the United States and Canada, whether as pastors or stated supplies; of all ministers, now living, not in fellowship with some other denomination, who have been pastors of such societies and have not withdrawn from the profession; and of ordained ministers from other denominations, furnished for insertion by the Committee on Fellowship. In some instances the person in charge of a society has not been ordained, or is a clergyman in fellowship with some other denomination. The absence of a date of settlement indicates that the relation is that of stated supply.

Ministers not in charge of societies, either as pastors or stated supplies, or occupying other positions ministerial in character, have their names preceded by a †. Many of these have occupation outside the ministry, or else, on account of age or for other reasons, do not desire a settlement.

By-Laws of the Association.

Article I. — The object of the American Unitarian Association shall be to diffuse the knowledge and promote the interests of pure Christianity; and all Unitarian Christians shall be invited to unite and co-operate with it for that purpose.

Art. II. — A subscription of fifty dollars shall constitute a person a member of this Association for life.

Art. III. — Those contributing to the funds of this Association shall be entitled to representation under the following conditions, namely: —

Any church or missionary association, of at least two years' standing, not being in arrears of debt to the American Unitarian Association, or the Church Building Loan Fund, shall, upon sending a contribution for missionary uses to the Treasurer of the Association for two successive years, be entitled to representation at all business meetings of the Association, by the persons of its minister or president, and two additional lay delegates; provided that such contributions shall be placed in the hands of the officers of the Association on or before May 1, to entitle a church to be represented in the following annual meeting.

Art. IV. — The Board of Directors may by a unanimous vote at a regular meeting, two thirds of their number being present, elect Honorary Members of this Association, who shall have the same rights and privileges as other members. Such elections shall be by ballot, and nominations shall lie over at least one month.

Art. V. — The officers shall be a President, six Vice-Presidents, — one of whom at the time of his election shall be from Northern New England, one from Southern New England, one from the Middle States, one from the Southern States, one from the Central West, and one from the Pacific Coast, — a Secretary, and one or more Assistant Secretaries, a Treasurer, and eighteen other persons, who, with them, shall constitute a Board of Directors. These officers, of whom sixteen shall be laymen, shall be chosen by ballot at the Annual Meeting. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be chosen annually, to serve for one year, or until their successors shall be chosen. The eighteen other persons, of whom three shall be women, shall be chosen for three years, or until their successors shall be chosen; and one-third shall be chosen annually.

Art. VI. — This Board shall meet at least once in three months, eight constituting a quorum; and shall have charge of all the business and interests of the Association, the direction of its funds and operations; with power to fill any vacancies that may occur in their number between any two annual meetings, and to call special meetings of the Corporation whenever they shall deem it necessary or expedient.

They may choose from their own number an Executive Committee, which shall meet at the call of the Secretary or President, and shall have charge of such business as may be intrusted to it by the Board of Directors.

Art. VII. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a full record of the meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors; to conduct the correspondence of the Association, and keep an accurately arranged file of the same; and, in general, to perform such services, to suggest, devise, and execute, under the direction of the Board of Directors, such plans and measures as shall, in their judgment, tend to promote the objects of the Association, increase its usefulness, and enlarge the sphere of its influence; and the Assistant Secretaries shall render such service as shall be specified by the Board of Directors. The salaries of the Secretaries shall be determined annually by the Board of Directors, the Secretaries not voting.

ART. VIII. — The Annual Meeting of the Association shall be held in the month of May, at such time and place as the Board of Directors may appoint; of which due notice shall be given, by circular to the churches, and by advertisement in two or more newspapers published in Boston, at least ten days previous.

ART. IX. — Any amendment of these articles proposed at one annual meeting may be adopted at the next, if a majority of the members present vote in favor of it.

National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches.

This National Conference owes its organization to a special meeting of the American Unitarian Association, held Dec. 7, 1864; at which, in view of the need of enlarged denominational activity, a resolution was adopted calling "a convention, to consist of the pastor and two delegates from each church or parish in the Unitarian denomination, to meet in the city of New York, to consider the interests of our cause, and to institute measures for its good."

This Convention was held in New York, on the 5th and 6th of April, 1865, and organized the National Conference.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

Constitution.

The Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches was formed in the year 1865, with the purpose of strengthening the churches and societies which should unite in it for more and better work for the kingdom of God. These churches accept the religion of Jesus, holding, in accordance with his teaching, that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man.

The Conference recognizes the fact that its constituency is Congregational in tradition and polity. Therefore, it declares that nothing in this Constitution is to be construed as an authoritative test; and we cordially invite to our working fellowship any who, while differing from us in belief, are in general sympathy with our spirit and our practical aims.

Article I. — The churches and other organizations here represented unite themselves in a common body to be known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches.

Art. II. — This National Conference shall be composed of such delegates, elected once in two years, not exceeding three from any church or other affiliated organization, as may be invited by the Council, and accredited to it by a certificate of their appointment.

Art. III. — The Conference shall meet biennially, at such time and place as it may designate at its successive biennial sessions, unless otherwise directed by the Council.

Art. IV. — Its officers shall consist of a President; six Vice-Presidents; a general Secretary; a Treasurer; a Council of twelve, including the general Secretary and Treasurer, of whom not more than half shall be ministers; and a Committee on Fellowship, consisting of twelve, — three from the Eastern States, three from the Middle and Southern States, three from the Central Western States, and three from the Pacific States, — who shall be elected at each meeting to hold their offices for two years, or until their successors are appointed.

Art. V. — The Council, during the intervals of the biennial sessions, may fill vacancies in the board of government, and shall have charge of all business having reference to the interests of the Conference, and intrusted to it by that body, which is hereby declared a purely advisory one.

Art. VI. — The National Conference, until further advised by its experience, adopts the existing organizations of the Unitarian body as the instruments of its power, and confines itself to recommending to them such undertakings and methods as it judges to be in the heart of its constituency.

Art. VII. — This Constitution may be amended, at any regular meeting of the Conference, by a vote of not less than two thirds of the delegates accredited thereto, provided public announcement of the proposed amendment has been given three months in advance.

By-Laws.

1. Three months at least before the time fixed by the National Conference for its biennial meeting, the Council shall issue a circular letter of call to the churches and organizations in its fellowship, accompanying it with a form of certificate, the production of which shall be the proof of membership of the Conference until others are elected, unless otherwise ordered by the Conference.

2. The General Secretary shall keep a full report of the proceedings of the body, which shall be published at the expense of the Conference, and a copy sent to every delegate.

3. The Council, at the conclusion of each Conference, shall issue an address to the churches and organizations in our body, whether members of this Conference or not, to be published with the proceedings of the Conference, containing such advice and encouragement as it may deem appropriate; but especially communicating to the churches and organizations the recommendations of the Conference in regard to plans and methods of work, the amount of money required for the uses of the year, the special objects to which they would advise its appropriation, with such suggestions, as to a just apportionment of the burden, as they may judge expedient and becoming.

4. The Council shall have it for its duty to keep itself accurately informed of the plans and operations of the various organizations in our body, and of the state of the individual churches ; inviting correspondence and soliciting reports, to be sent in one month before the biennial meeting, in which the general condition of the parish, its Sunday-school, charities, and general working may be set forth, to the end that the Conference may know what the wants and the wishes of the churches are, somewhat more particularly than it is possible to learn in the necessary hurry of the biennial meeting.

5. The General Secretary of the National Conference shall be the person to whom all letters and communications shall be addressed; and he shall be, ex officio, a member of the Council, and constitute its Secretary.

6. The list of delegates, churches, and organizations represented in each Conference shall be part of the Biennial Report. The archives of the Conference shall be in the keeping of the General Secretary, subject to inspection and temporary possession by the Council.

7. A collection shall be taken up among the delegates at each Conference, to which any others may contribute, to defray the incidental expenses of the Conference, — such as printing the Report, etc.

8. Each church in this Conference is recommended to defray the expenses of its delegates.

9. All motions and resolutions, not merely of a formal or incidental character, which propose any action or declaration on the part of the Conference shall, unless the Conference shall otherwise specifically order, be referred without debate to the Committee on Business, whose duty it shall be to make seasonable reports thereon. In case any action by the Conference shall be recommended in a report, a suitable time for the same shall be therein designated; and, unless objection shall be made to any report, it shall be deemed approved by the Conference.

10. The Fellowship Committee shall include in its scope the extending of fellowship to ministers from other countries coming to America, and desiring to engage in ministerial work among our Unitarian churches.

RULES OF THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP.

(Prepared in accordance with instructions given by the National Conference.)

1. Whenever any person who has not received adequate instruction in the Divinity School at Cambridge, or the Theological School at Meadville, as shown by a certificate of the Faculty of the School in which he has studied, shall desire to enter the Unitarian ministry, he shall be requested to make application, expressing such desire, to the Chairman of the sub-committee having jurisdiction over the territory in which he resides.

2. Each sub-committee shall, after thorough investigation, report their decision — whether favorable or unfavorable to the applicant — together with all material facts in the case, to the Secretary of the General Committee.

3. The Secretary of the General Committee shall be required to make a complete record of every case so reported to him, and immediately thereafter to notify the Chairman of each of the sub-committees, excepting the one having original jurisdiction over the case.

4. Unless within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, objection to the finding of the sub-committee having original jurisdiction over the case is filed with the Secretary of the General Committee, the action of said sub-committee shall be regarded as approved by the General Committee, and in case of the acceptance of an applicant, publication of that fact shall immediately thereafter be made in one or more of the denominational papers, over the names of the Chairman and Secretary of the General Committee. Exception, however, shall be made in cases in which the sub-committee making the examination recommends that the applicant be put on a year's probation, with license to preach as a candidate in our pulpits. In all cases of this kind, the certificate shall not be issued until the applicant shall have received a call to the pastorate of one of our churches.

5. To insure uniformity of procedure, each sub-committee will ask of those who come before them, satisfactory evidence of their intellectual and moral qualifications, including a statement of their course of theological study and their purpose in entering the Unitarian ministry. They will require the applicant to submit a sermon, together with such testimonials and references as may be deemed necessary to a full understanding of the case, and in addition they will require a personal interview with him.

3. To collect and disseminate information regarding all matters of interest to the denomination, namely: —

Needs of local societies; Facilities for meeting these needs; Work to be done; Collection and distribution of money, etc.

4. And to devise ways and means for more efficient usefulness.

A Branch shall be an organization of women in a Unitarian church, formed for the religious and other purposes contemplated by this Society, or shall be an organization

Instituted 1827 ; Reorganized 1854 ; Incorporated 1885.

This Society is incorporated under the name of the "Unitarian Sunday-School Society, for the purpose of promoting moral and religious education in Sunday-schools." It publishes at a low price a large number of valuable text-books for Sunday-schools, a Sunday-School Service-Book and Hymnal, and various other helps for Sunday-school work. Its illustrated Sunday-school paper, a fortnightly publication, under the name of EVERY OTHER SUNDAY, contains a variety of reading matter for both pupils and teachers. Its missionary work is increasing in scope and importance, and it solicits the co-operation of all the Unitarian churches in America in fostering the religious nurture of the young.

A payment of ten dollars at any one time constitutes a person a life member of this Society ; and a contribution to the funds of the Society by any Unitarian parish or Sunday-school connected therewith entitles such parish, either directly or by its Sunday-school, to appoint three persons who become members of this Society for the term of one year, beginning with the annual meeting of the Society next following the receipt of such contribution ; and such persons are denominated Delegate Members.

The Society holds a special meeting in Boston in Anniversary Week, and has its Annual Meeting, for business, election of officers, and discussion of Sunday-school work, in the autumn.

Theological Schools.

Divinity School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

This institution was formally established in 1817, though instruction in Theology had previously been given in connection with Harvard College.

Graduates of some college, or persons who shall give evidence of an education equal to that of college graduates, will be admitted as candidates for the degree of D.B. Persons not having such education may be admitted as special students on giving evidence of a good English training, and passing an examination in some of the Greek and Latin classic authors and in the Greek of the New Testament.

The Theological Library numbers over 27,000 volumes. Students have also access to the College Library, which contains about 345,000 volumes, and is rich in theological literature.

Students in regular standing may attend without extra charge any exercises for which they are fitted in other departments of the University.

The charges for instruction are $50.00 per year. The price of rooms varies, according to their location and desirableness, from $40.00 to $80.00 a year. It is probable that the price of board at Memorial Hall will not exceed $4.10 a week.

Pecuniary aid is furnished to students who need such help, and whose character and scholarship justify it.

Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa.

This institution was opened to students in the autumn of 1844, and chartered by the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846. By its Act of Incorporation it is placed upon an altogether unsectarian basis. It has had students from various denominations, although by far the greater number have been, and most, if not all, of those in attendance at present are believed to be in substantial sympathy with the aims of the Unitarian body.

The course of study is essentially that of other institutions having similar purposes. The length of the regular course is three years, but in special cases this time may be either abbreviated or extended.

The only pecuniary charge to students is an annual fee of twenty dollars, covering a portion of the cost of heating and lighting and otherwise caring for the school buildings. Two hundred dollars will cover all the expenses of an economical student for the school year.

The School undertakes to render pecuniary assistance to students in straitened circumstances.

Women are admitted upon the same terms as men.

The library contains about 27,000 volumes.

Academies, etc.

Prospect Hill School for Girls, Greenfield, Mass. — This is an incorporated institution, in trust of the American Unitarian Association. It is maintained for the unsectarian liberal education of girls over twelve years of age. About thirty pupils are accommodated. There are three general plans of study: one, in preparation for any college; another, for graduates of high schools who wish advanced studies without entering college; a third for those who desire a general education. The aim is to give thorough instruction, under the influences of a good home, with ample opportunities for healthy physical life. The buildings, on a beautiful estate of seven acres, are commodious, and supplied with all modern conveniences. Greenfield is at the junction of the Fitchburg and Connecticut River Railroads, a little over three hours from Boston, and five hours from New York. For terms, apply to Miss Caroline R. Clark or Miss Ida F. Foster, Principals.

Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H. — This academy is under the management of the Unitarian Educational Society. Andover is on the Concord Division of the Boston and Maine Railroad, twenty-nine miles north of Concord. The location is pleasant and healthful, and comparatively free from influences which divert the mind from study. There are two courses, English and Classical, in both of which excellent instruction is furnished. For information apply to Rev. James F. Morton, Principal.

Howard Seminary, West Bridgewater, Mass. — This is an unsectarian school of high grade for girls, founded by Benjamin B. Howard, a native of the town. It has a noble school building, experienced teachers, a good laboratory, a well-equipped gymnasium, and an excellent library. Instruction in music and art is given. The boarding-house is spacious, well lighted and ventilated. The pupils receive the care and privileges of home life. The school is situated on the line of the Old Colony Railroad near the Westdale and the West Bridgewater stations. Terms moderate. For full information send for prospectus and circulars to Ralph W. Gifford, Principal.

Concord Home School, Concord, Mass. — This is a family boarding-school for boys, founded and conducted by James S. Garland. It is situated in the heart of historic Concord, a town famed alike for its patriotic and literary traditions, and for its healthful climate. The school domain embraces eighty acres of land, upon which has been erected a school building having a capacity for thirty students. This building is equipped with all the appliances of a modern first-class school. Besides this, there is a gymnasium, a boat-house, and a chemical and physical laboratory. There are athletic fields, tennis courts, and unrivalled facilities for boating on the Concord River. The domestic arrangements are in charge of a matron; but the Principal and his wife are constantly among the boys, and all partake of the intimate home life of the school. The work of instruction is performed by the Principal, aided by three masters. Students are prepared for college, scientific schools, or for business life. The school is non-sectarian in religion; the Principal and his family are Unitarians, and the pupils are grounded in the principles of a sound Christian manhood. Expenses are moderate. For further particulars address James S. Garland, Principal.

Powder Point School, Duxbury, Mass. — This school combines home and school life, a great deal of personal attention being given to each boy. The Principal and his wife are Unitarians; the teachers, of various denominations. The aim is to give the boys a high sense of honor and duty, but to leave doctrinal questions to the parents and churches. The younger boys are taught to be exact and earnest in their elementary work; and the older ones are prepared for scientific school, college, or business. There is no fixed curriculum, but studies are selected according to the needs of each boy. Scholarships are given where needed and deserved. Frederick B. Knapp, Principal.

West Newton English and Classical School. Allen Brothers. — This is a school for both sexes, where brothers and sisters can be in the same family. It is unsectarian, though the Allen brothers are Unitarians. Pupils are prepared for college, scientific schools, business, and for a useful citizenship, and honorable life. Special attention is given to character building, to the results of which the thousands of its former students, in this and foreign countries, can testify. The school was established in 1853, through the influence and by the advice of Horace Mann, George B. Emerson, Samuel G. Howe, Theodore Parker, and other eminent educators. Studies are largely elective, though selected by parents and instructors according to the present and future needs of the pupil. For catalogue and particulars address Nathaniel T. Allen, West Newton, Mass.

The Young People's Religious Union is the successor to the National Bureau of Unity Clubs, organized May 26, 1887, and to the National Guild Alliance, organized Nov. 18, 1889. It assumes the functions of both former organizations and appeals to all local societies of young people which have been in fellowship with either of them, as well as to other societies, existing or to be formed.

The objects of the Union are: (a) To foster the religious life; (b) To bring the young people of our several churches into closer relations with one another; and (c) To spread rational views of religion, and to put into practice such principles of life and duty as tend to uplift mankind.

Cardinal principles: truth, worship, and service.

Any young people's society may become a member of the Union by affirming its sympathy with the general objects of the Union, adopting its cardinal principles, and making a contribution to its treasury.

The Annual Meeting is held in May, at such day and place as the Executive Board may appoint. Special rally meetings are held as often as one or more local societies may arrange for such meetings. These special meetings promise to be very valuable in realizing the purposes for which the Union exists.

The Union maintains an office in the American Unitarian Association Building, 25 Beacon Street, Room 11, under the charge of the secretary, Rev. Leslie W. Sprague. Mr. Sprague is at the office Monday mornings, and at other times by appointment. Miss Ross, assistant to the secretary, may be found daily at the office. The secretary also acts as organizer and agent for the Union, and as far as his time will permit is ready to answer all calls for such services.

The Union maintains a department in the "Christian Register," under the charge of the secretary; and a bibliography and short article following the programme of topics published by the Union, as well as notes and notices, will be found weekly on next to the last page of the "Christian Register." Helps are sent from the Union office each week to societies arranging for them, and in this way the local societies are aided in making their programmes successful.

Unitarianism Abroad.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

Unitarianism began in England as an individual heresy in the earliest times of the Reformation, and many of the first martyrs executed under the common term "Anabaptists" were really Unitarians, or Arians. During the seventeenth century there was a strong undercurrent of Unitarian controversy, and though there was no organized Unitarian body, the Unitarian view of God and Christ was held by large numbers, among whom were many eminent men, including John Milton, John Locke, Sir Isaac Newton. In the next century there was a steady tendency of thought that way among the churches of the English Presbyterians, and also among the broader men — "Latitudinarians," they were called — in the Established Church. The churchmen, however, were bound by the creeds and articles, and the only man among them who had any permanent effect upon religious thought was Theophilus Lindsey, who in 1774 gave up his living at Catterick, in Yorkshire, and going to London, opened the first avowedly Unitarian church, — Essex Street Chapel (since removed to Kensington as "Essex Church"). Among the English Presbyterians, however, there were no creeds; their churches had been left free, and as they moved forward under the influence of men like Dr. Priestley, they came more and more to be known as "Unitarians." They, for the most part, accepted the name very reluctantly, fearing lest it might itself become a bondage, and in their denominational institutions have always maintained the same openness of constitution which as Presbyterians enabled them to move onward toward liberal thought. A somewhat concurrent movement among the old sect of General Baptists, which led to a disruption in 1770, brought the greater part of that body — though always maintaining its own separate organization — into the Unitarian connection.

The theological schools from which all these Liberal churches mainly draw their ministers are three in number, namely: Manchester College, Oxford (founded in 1786, but really a continuation of the older Warrington Academy), of which Dr. Martineau had long been the head till his resignation in 1885, the present faculty being Rev. James Drummond, LL.D., Principal, with Rev. J. Estlin Carpenter, M.A., Rev. C. B. Upton, Rev. J. E. Odgers, M.A.; the Unitarian Home Missionary College, established in 1855, to afford a theological training to men who have not been able to have an academic course, but who show marked fitness for the ministry; and the Presbyterian College, Carmarthen, Wales, a survival of the old Presbyterianism before the Unitarian division, which still continues entirely unsectarian, Orthodox and Unitarian tutors and students working together in harmony.

The National Conference of all these Unitarian and allied Free Christian churches was established in 1882, meeting once in three years. Secretary, A. W. Worthington, Old Swinford, Stourbridge. The next Triennial Conference will be in 1897, at Sheffield.

The headquarters of English Unitarianism is at The British and Foreign Unitarian Association offices, Essex Hall, Essex Street (on the site of the first Unitarian church), Strand, London; Secretary, Rev. W. Copeland Bowie. Here American Unitarians visiting London can always be sure of a welcome, and can obtain further information about our churches. The English Unitarian newspapers are "The Inquirer," weekly, price 1*d.*; and "The Christian Life," weekly, price 1*d.* The "Essex Hall Year-Book," and the "Unitarian Pocket Almanac," both published at Essex Hall, supply full information about all Unitarian and allied churches, institutions, etc.

Without attempting to supply a full list of congregations and ministers, it may be interesting to add a few leading facts.

England. — There are 279 of our churches, large and small: in London, 25; Manchester, 15; Liverpool, 6; Birmingham, 7; and one or more in all considerable cities, amongst which may be specially mentioned Chester, often the first stopping-place of Americans, where our chapel is that once associated with the ministry of Matthew Henry.

Wales has Unitarian churches in Cardiff, Carmarthen, Aberdare, and a number in the South Wales colliery districts, making a total of 33.

Scotland has eight or nine, two being in Glasgow; one each in Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, etc.

Ireland has 38, almost all in Ulster (5 in Belfast).

HUNGARY.

Unitarianism was introduced into Transylvania in 1563 by the influence of Blandrata, an Italian physician, who went thither in the train of the Polish Princess Isabella. The real apostle of Unitarianism, however, by whom the church was actually founded, was Francis David. In 1564 he was elected bishop of the Calvinists and court chaplain to Prince John Sigismund; but soon after, in conjunction with Blandrata, he cast the whole weight of his influence in favor of the Unitarian movement, and about 1568 was chosen bishop of the new religious community. In the same year the edict of religious liberty was passed at the Diet of Thorda, and the Unitarian faith — or, as it was called, the "Klausenburg Confession" — spread rapidly among the Hungarian and Szekler population.

The number of Unitarian churches in Hungary, with settled pastors, is over one hundred, besides fifty or more that are called filial, or daughter churches, which are assisted in holding regular services, the total number of registered Unitarians in the country being about sixty thousand. There are under Bishop Joseph Ferencz eight Rural Deans, and an Ecclesiastical Council of three hundred and fifty members. The higher education is provided for by the College at Klausenburg, founded by Prince John Sigismund about 1569, and the Middle Schools at Thorda and Szekely-Keresztur. Additions continue to be made to the religious literature of the Hungarian Church; and its chief organ, "The Christian Seedsower," prospers under the joint editorship of Professor János Kovács and the Rev. Dénes Péterfi, First Minister of the Klausenburg Church.

JAPAN.

The American Unitarian Association is represented in Japan by a Mission, having its headquarters in Unity Hall, Tokio. The Rev. Clay MacCauley is the Superintendent of the Mission and President of the Training School for native students. Prof. Garrett Droppers, who is also a professor in a Japanese university, gives instruction in Sociology and Ethics. The other lectureships in the school are filled by Japanese scholars trained for the purpose, who also, in large part, do the work of the Post-Office Mission, the translation of Unitarian books, and the editing of a Unitarian review. There are now ten native professors and assistants. The expenses of the Mission are met by appropriations made by the American Unitarian Association, including the income of the Hayward Fund.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Liberal thought in religion, outside of the United States, the British Empire, and Hungary, seldom takes the Unitarian name; but organizations in substantial agreement with the Unitarian faith are to be found in several other countries. Of the Protestant churches in Austria a considerable number are Liberal in their theology. In Germany, the Protestanten Verein (Protestant Union) is a Liberal Christian organization. The Protestanten Bund, or Union, of Holland is very flourishing. In France, a minority of the Protestants, not easily estimated, hold Unitarian views. In Spain, the Spanish Evangelical Church sets up no theological test, and includes Liberal congregations. In Sweden, the Sanningsökaren (Truth-seeker) is the organ of the Liberals, who mostly retain their membership in the State Church, and there are several societies similar to the Protestant Unions. Norway has a Liberal magazine, the Frie Ord, edited by Rev. H. Tambs Lyche, Kristiania. Switzerland has a Free Christian Association, which is active in the Protestant cantons. In Madras, India, there is a small Unitarian congregation; and in Khasi Hills, Assam, is a group of five village Unitarian congregations.

FOR THE CHURCH AND THE HOME, AND SERVICES FOR CONGREGATIONAL WORSHIP. Revised edition.
This is a revised edition of the book published by the Association in 1868, and furnished with or without the Services, also revised; being a square 16mo, of 517 pages with the Services, and 399 without.
The hymns and tunes that could best be spared were replaced by others, new and old, gathered from the ample resources supplied within the previous ten years by composers and compilers, of all denominations, in England and America.
The Services consist chiefly of selections from the Psalms and Prophets, with a few prayers and collects from several liturgies already published. They are printed in large type, and add but one hundred and twenty pages to the hymn-book; and, whether for home or church, offer choicest readings of psalm and prayer.
The books, handsomely and substantially bound in morocco, can be had at the following prices: Hymn and Tune Book, with Services, $1.50; Hymn and Tune Book, $1.25; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the books, and to clergymen. In Turkey morocco, gilt edges, at $3.50 and $3.00 respectively, with a discount of ten per cent to societies and clergymen.
The price of the Services alone, bound in cloth, is 60 cts., or $6.00 a dozen.
☞The former edition is in print, the prices being the same as for the revised.

Hymn, Tune, and Service Book,

Hymns for Church and Home:
WITH TUNES. Hymns edited by Mrs. Mary W. Tileston; tunes edited by Arthur Foote.

This book is based upon "Hymns for the Church Universal," but in the new form has many important changes and additions.

It is a square 8vo, of 512 pp., containing 801 hymns, and is handsomely and substantially bound in morocco.

Price, $1.50; with a discount of twenty per cent to societies introducing the book, and to clergymen; to whom a copy will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of $1.20.

Hymns for Church and Home:
WITH TUNES. ABRIDGED EDITION. Hymns edited by Mrs. Mary W. Tileston; tunes edited by Arthur Foote.

While it cannot, of course, retain all the fine hymns and beautiful music of the larger edition, the omissions, so far as possible, have been of those which would be least used.

Price, in leather, $1.00; cloth, 75 cents. To societies introducing the book and to ministers, 80 and 60 cents respectively, for which a copy will be sent, postage paid. (See third page of cover.)

ABRIDGED EDITION

OF

Hymns for Church and Home, With Tunes.

Edited by Mrs. Mary W. Tileston and Arthur Foote.

This abridgment, prepared in response to a demand from some of our churches for a cheaper book, has 316 pages, and contains 513 hymns, 271 tunes, and 10 pages of chants. While it cannot, of course, retain all the fine hymns and beautiful music of the larger edition, the omissions, so far as possible, have been of those which would be least used.

Price, in leather, $1.00; cloth, 75 cents. To societies introducing the book and to ministers, 80 and 60 cents, respectively, for which a copy will be sent, postage paid.

Unabridged Edition, leather, $1.50; cloth, $1.25. To societies and ministers, $1.20 and $1.00.

Last December we noticed the publication by the American Unitarian Association of a new hymn and tune book. We then expressed the opinion that the collection was a distinct advance beyond any hymn-book previously issued. Those hymns which had practically fallen out of general use were omitted, classical compositions tested by generations of use in the older branches of the Christian Church were appropriately restored, many beautiful hymns by modern writers were introduced, and altogether such judgment, taste, and labor had been given to the preparation of the work that a book of high quality in every particular was the result.

The months of trial which have followed the publication of the volume have not only confirmed our first opinion, but have shown that we have in this collection a standard of permanent excellence. Few things could better advance the unification of our churches than the adoption by every society of this one book of "Hymns for Church and Home," that wherever a Unitarian church existed there might be this common bond of hymns and tunes familiar to every Unitarian eye and ear. To favor this desirable end, as we suppose, the American Unitarian Association has now issued the present abridged edition, that to the churches already using the book may be added those smaller societies where it is imperative that a less expensive volume than the original edition be made available.

This cheaper edition cannot, of course, compare in finish and dignity of appearance with the larger book, but it is very neat and handy, of the same sized page and type as the more expensive edition, containing 500 instead of 800 hymns. In all details of editing and printing we have nothing but praise, as we had for the larger edition. — The Unitarian, Boston.

About a year ago we noticed, with high commendation, the publication of this valuable help to church worship. That first full and complete edition should be bought by all churches, so far as possible. The variety and excellence of the contents in the larger volume make it a complete resource for many years to come. But for those churches not able to buy the original volume this abridgment is a happy substitute. Its typography is attractive, the hymnology varied and richly expressive, the tunes wisely culled from old and new composers, and the whole appearance of the book is dignified and befitting church use. While the tunes of the early compilation are abridged, there is no diminution of good taste and excellence in this smaller production. It will be remembered that both editions are the work of Mrs. Mary W. Tileston, so well known as the editor of beautiful poems and hymns, and Arthur Foote, whose standard of music has always been inspiringly high. — Every Other Sunday, Boston.

The object of this edition is not to take the place of the more complete book, but to give to societies not able to subscribe for the larger work an opportunity to have a small one distinguished by its merits. The abridgment, like the compilation, has been made by Mrs. Mary Wilder Tileston, so that we have the same judgment, good taste, and sense of value showed by her in the larger work. Some will think, of course, that she has skimmed the cream of the unabridged edition; and others may miss hymns found in that edition. Individual taste is the special court of appeal in such cases; but most readers will be glad that the compilation and the abridgment have been made by the one hand. As in the earlier volume, while a wide range of spiritual thought and feeling is covered, specially full provision is made of hymns of faith in the Eternal Goodness, joy and hope, consecration and love to God and man. — Christian Register, Boston.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION,

25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

The American Unitarian Association,

FOUNDED in 1825, incorporated in 1847, made a delegate body in 1885, has been for seventy years the principal organ of the missionary activity of the Unitarian churches of America.

The Association, while it stands close to the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian Churches, is distinguished from it by an act of incorporation which gives it power to hold property, to make contracts, and to transact business requiring the receipt and expenditure of money. But the officers of the Conference and the Association are in many cases the same persons, and the Association heartily accepts the recent declarations of the National Conference as declarations of its own spirit and purpose.

Any church or missionary association of two years' standing, having made two successive annual contributions to the funds of the Association, on or before May 1, of any year, is entitled to representation by its minister or president and two lay delegates at the annual meeting following the last contribution. Life members are made on payment of fifty dollars.

The Association seeks to promote sympathy and united action among Unitarians throughout the country, and through churches, clubs, conferences, and other societies, to spread the principles which are believed by Unitarians to be essential to civil and religious liberty and progress, and to the highest attainments of the spiritual life. To this end, it supports missionaries, holds conventions, aids in building churches, publishes, sells, and distributes by gift, books, essays, sermons, collections of hymns, prayers, and other devotional works.

At its Book Room are sold its own publications and all other theological and religious works by Unitarian writers. Any obtainable Unitarian book will be sent, postage paid, on receipt of price. To all clergymen a discount of twenty-five per cent is made. A catalogue of its own publications which are for sale, of tracts which are given away, or a list of other Unitarian books, will be sent on application.

The Association gives to all who ask any of the tracts in its list; Channing's Works to any student in a Theological School intending to enter the ministry, or to any minister not owning them settled over a religious Society in the United States or Canada. It also gives to Trinitarian ministers settled in New England, asking for them, a few volumes suitable for those who wish to study the principles of Unitarianism, and to colleges and public libraries about forty of its own publications on assurance that they will be welcome.

The headquarters of the American Unitarian Association are at its building, 25 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass., where may also be found the Unitarian Sunday-School Society, National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women, Ladies' Commission on Sunday-School Books, Unitarian Temperance Society, and Young People's Religious Union.

The building contains, besides the rooms required for the business of the Association and other organizations, the Reading Room, Channing Hall, and Committee Rooms of various sizes, for denominational meetings.
